ANP clutch set in Belleville

A special "Coffee Clutch" will be sponsored by Associated Newspapers from 3 to 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 7 at the Belleville Enterprise office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville.

Managing Editor Dennis G. Fassett will host the community forum which will be for readers of the Enterprise and Romulus Roman newspapers.

Coffee and donuts will be served while interested local citizens discuss with the managing editor and other writers of the newspaper how to more effectively communicate news to the public.

Lee Smith, suburban living editor for both papers and Jim Bradley, reporter and writer of "On the Brighter Side" column, plan to be on hand for the exchange of ideas.

The Coffee Clutch will be limited to first 15 people in the Belleville-Romulus areas who call Mrs. Ferguson at 697-9191 and ask for free reservation to the community forum.

Roman to quiz all candidates

Beginning in this edition and continuing for the next four editions, one question will be asked by the Roman each week of candidates running for office in the Romulus general election on Nov. 8.

Candidates will be given until 5 p.m. on the Friday following publication to respond to questions. Their answers will be printed in the next week's edition and will strictly be limited to 50 words.

Questions and answers will be displayed each week on Page 7 of the Roman. Answers submitted past the specified deadline will not be printed.

This week's question is directed to mayoral and council candidates and asks: How do you feel about Romulus having its own police force? Would you support the type of movement that took place in Canton Township where voters approved a police millage for that purpose?

Board slates 6th millage try

The Romulus School Board unanimously agreed to hold another millage election at its meeting last week.

On a 7-0 vote, the board voted to try for 8.5 mills additional operating mills for a 5-year period, the same proposal which was defeated Sept. 12.

The new millage vote will take place on the same day as the Nov. 8 general election. It will be the sixth millage election in Romulus in the past 20 months and the fourth in the last eight months.

In other board action, trustees Wayne Avery and Shirley Lombardi continued their fight to restore total busing to the school district. However, they were overwhelmingly defeated in their efforts as their fellow members rejected their motion on a 5-2 vote.

Square dance lessons offered

The Romulus Recreation Dept. is sponsoring square dance lessons to any resident of Wayne County who is at least 50 years old.

Lessons will be held at 4:30 p.m. on Mondays at Romulus City Hall, 11111 South Wayne Rd., Romulus.

There is no charge for these lessons and the first meeting is Monday, Oct. 3, 1977.

More information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Dept. at 941-0666, ext. 67.

'Cuckoo's nest' put to rest

Purported call by senator jars payment by Lewkowicz

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

For the second time in recent history, a U.S. Senator apparently has stepped in and made sure a Romulus city employee got paid by the city treasurer.

Latest recipient of such help is Michael Herman, director of the Water and Sewer Dept., who had taken out a lawsuit to force Treasurer John Lewkowicz to pay him.

After Lewkowicz refused to pay the three checks which Herman said were owed him, a direct call reported from U.S. Senator Donald Riegle brought swift action from the reluctant Lewkowicz.

The payless payday ordeal started for Herman, a two-year employee of the city, when he decided to take a 30-day leave of absence. Herman agreed to forego any benefits during that time and even returned $60 that was taken up for him at a going-away party. The leave of absence lasted from Aug. 22 to Sept. 6, when he returned to work the day after Labor Day.

Herman said a city employee can take a 30-day leave of absence if it is signed by the employee's supervisor or the mayor. Herman's was signed by Mayor James C. Stewart.

Herman wrote out a check to Mrs. Elvera Fischer for the $60 and it was donated to charity.

He returned to work Sept. 6, but because the first week's pay is held back, Herman wouldn't have been paid until Sept. 15. When he went into Lewkowicz' office Sept. 15, Herman claims Lewkowicz told him he couldn't be paid because he had quit.

When Herman asked if Lewkowicz had it in writing, Lewkowicz said no, but he had signed Herman's going away card, according to Herman.

Herman hired an attorney Sept. 20 and filed a lawsuit against Lewkowicz, asking for his full pay, plus interest for late payment and court costs.

Lewkowicz was served with a summons Sept. 23 to appear in 34th District Court within 15 days.

Herman says it is strange that Lewkowicz would not pay him because he claimed Herman was not an employee of the city, yet Herman signed all water Department employee checks as their supervisor during that three-week period and Lewkowicz never questioned it.

Things came to a head last week when Lewkowicz went to city council about Herman's situation. The council would not take any action because it felt it was not under their jurisdiction.

However, Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry told Lewkowicz at the meeting, "Why don't you just use common sense, John, and pay Mike Herman like you did the girl in your office, Renee Anne Dembinski?"

The following day, Wednesday, Raspberry went to Lewkowicz' office and reportedly told him he was going to "fight him" on this. Lewkowicz then said if he had a letter from the mayor authorizing payment to Herman, and also verifying his rehiring after his leave of absence, that he would pay Herman.

Mayor Stewart's signed letter was sent to the treasurer's office on Thursday morning and Lewkowicz called Herman into his office.

According to Herman, Lewkowicz told him he had the mayor's letter to release Herman's three paychecks but there was one hitch.

"You'll have to drop your suit against me, otherwise I'll have to go back to city council to see who they'll have represent me in court," Herman quoted Lewkowicz as saying.

Herman also reported that Lewkowicz told him that Herman would have to bear this own court costs. Herman then said he left the treasurer's office and called Senator Riegle's Allen Park office.

When Herman explained his plight to the lady who answered the phone in Riegle's office, she said it was a "local matter." But when Herman insisted that Riegle should do something just like the late Phillip Hart had done in a similar situation in the early 1970's, she agreed to help.

Herman described what happened next. "Within two or three minutes after I hung up the phone, Mr. Lewkowicz came rushing into my office, threw my three paychecks on my desk and dashed back into his office."

"Then I got a call about one minute later from the same lady I talked to in Sen. Riegle's office and she asked if I had gotten my checks."

The Romulus Roman, in verifying Herman's story, called Lewkowicz and Riegle's Allen Park office. When asked for his side of the Herman story, Lewkowicz responded, "I have nothing to say whatsoever."

Monday morning, the Roman called Riegle's office and Riegle's aides checked at all his Michigan offices and in Washington, they said, and had no record of Herman's phone call last Thursday.

However, further investigative reporting by the Romulan revealed that a man who identified himself as Sen. Riegle had indeed called Lewkowicz Thursday from his Washington office after Herman called Riegle's office.

Lynn Mast, a clerk in Treasurer Lewkowicz' office, answered the phone when Riegle called. Having just arrived from the south a few months ago, she was not familiar with Riegle's name and asked him to spell it.

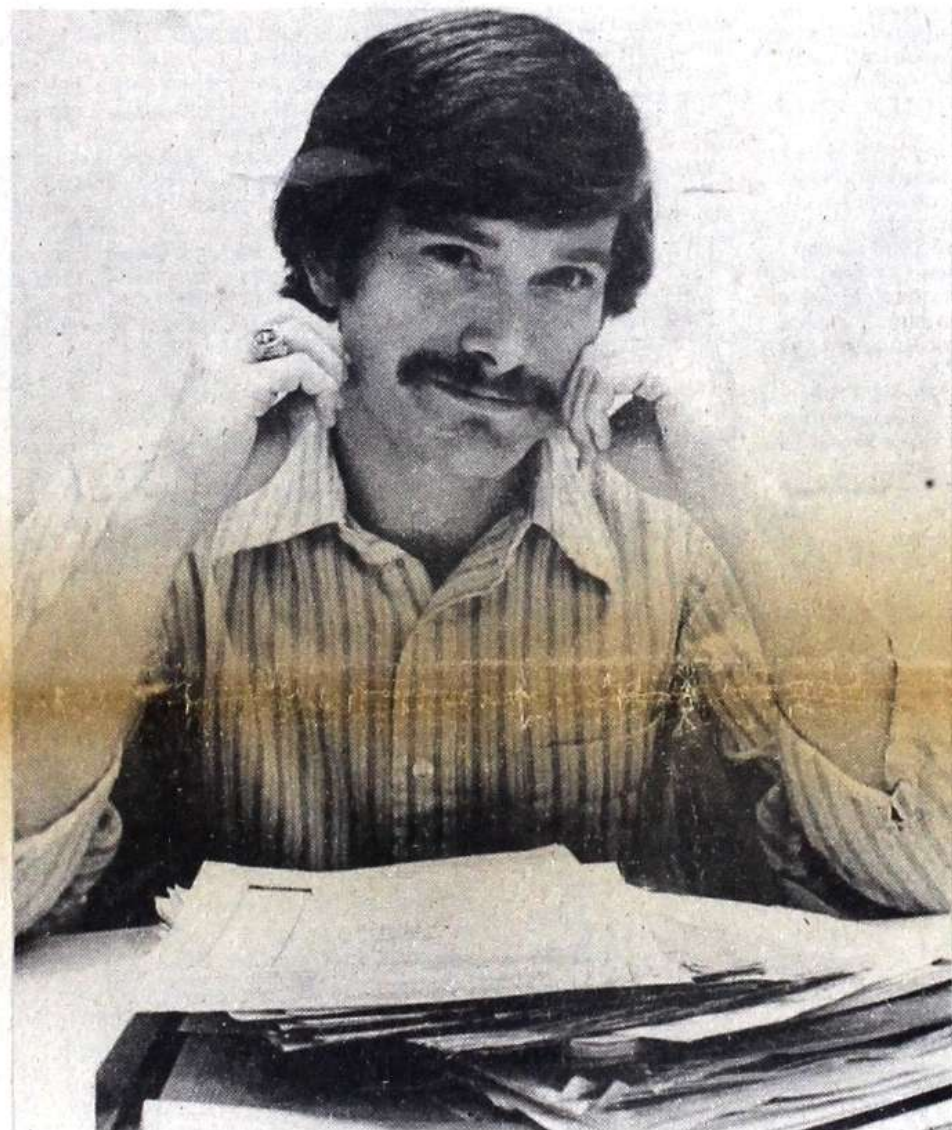

Mrs. Jean Braithwaite, a cashier in the treasurer's office, was a witness to Miss Mast taking Riegle's call.

"The man who called, said, 'This is Senator Riegle,' and because I was unfamiliar with his name, I asked him to spell it," Miss Mast reported.

A short time later, witnesses in the treasurer's office said Lewkowicz came out of his inner office and said, "Now we have senators calling," and he added that "Senator Riegle called today."

It was immediately after Riegle called Lewkowicz that the treasurer hurried into Herman's office and tossed the three paychecks on his desk.

Herman praised Raspberry and Riegle for helping him get paid. Other employees confessed it was a shame that it took a phone call from a United States Senator for a city department head to get his paychecks.

Teachers get pact with coalition clout

Romulus School teachers became the first to reach a tentative contract agreement under regional bargaining guidelines set up by the newly-formed Wayne County Education Association (WCEA), when it reached pending settlement on a three-year contract last week.

The WCEA is a coalition of approximately 14 school districts who have banded together into one bargaining unit for more clout in negotiating for new contracts.

An additional seven school districts are expected to join the WCEA, thus giving it more clout with 21 of the 26 Wayne County school districts belonging to it.

The tentative settlement came quickly, even for Romulus Education Association chief negotiator Lance Knudson who has been bargaining for the past 18 months with School Supt. James Garfield. Garfield represented the Romulus School Board in the long period of discussions.

Both sides were happy with the tentative agreement, which now has to be ratified by the teachers and school board. The teachers are expected to vote on the pact either Friday or Monday and the board wants to vote on it at Monday night's meeting.

Neither Knudson or Garfield would reveal the size of salary increases for the teachers. However, an informed source said the contract calls for a 3 percent salary raise the first year and 6 percent the second year.

The third-year raise was quoted at 3 percent, plus cost-of-living and a dental health plan.

Garfield and Knudson verified the cost-of-living and dental plan for the third year, but would not give any percentage figures until after the contract is ratified by both parties.

Mural contest is eyed

A scene out of the past will spring up in downtown Romulus next spring if the Romulus Grants Department receives approval for a National Endowments for the Arts grant.

As unanimously approved by the city council last month, the application calls for a 14 x 140 foot mural to be painted on the side of Bilmar's Grocery Store located at the intersection of Goddard and Shook roads.

The tentative theme of the project is: "Romulus at the turn of the century."

Grants administrator Stephen Bonczek is currently seeking interested artists to compete for the $1,750 prize from area universities, secondary and art schools. Paint and supplies will be furnished to the winning contestant.

Applicants must submit a resume and five color slides representing completed projects of a similar nature by Oct. 14, 1977. A panel of local artists, businessmen and city representatives will judge the entries and make a final selection by Oct. 17.

The competition is open to anyone, ages 16 to adult, with proven artistic ability. Those interested should send the resume and cover letter describing their conception of the project to Stephen Bonczek at Romulus City Hall, 11111 Wayne Rd, Romulus, Michigan 48174.

New name group still wants recall

The present school situation in Romulus has not only caused unsettled conditions among the residents of the city, but has also caused unsettled conditions within groups themselves.

Until partial busing was restored recently, parents had been up in arms over the school board's decision to cut into all busing.

There are several "unofficial" citizens' and parents' groups trying to accomplish different ends and even they have disagreements between themselves.

But although one group may have changed its name, it is still working hard to recall five of the seven members on the Romulus School Board. The recently-registered Romulus Save Our Schools (RSOS) organization has been disbanded, but founders of the parents' group say they'll achieve their goal of removing five school board members.

"When we found out that the group could be held accountable for the actions of anyone claiming to be a part of RSOS, we decided to disband the group," said Mrs. Theresa Kraft, recall petition chairman.

"We will continue as Parents United for Better Education, an unofficial group, but more determined than ever to recall the five board members."

Mrs. Kraft said the target of the recall were board members Gordon Silvey, Secretary Gloria Chandler, Vice-President Jack Bath, Ronald Christensen and President Gerald Budd.

"Our objective is to get a school board that will be responsive to the community as a whole," Mrs. Kraft explained.

"The school board is totally oblivious to the parents in the audience when we attend board meetings. They act very defiant and ignore us, make light of our concerns or just plain do as they well please."

"Well, we have 26 people actively collecting petition signatures to recall these five board members and the recall drive is going very strong. We have people in every school area situation."

getting petitions signed and we will meet soon to go over our plans and evaluate our situations."

The group needs 1,301 signatures on each of the five separate petitions to get a recall election, according to Mrs. Kraft.

The individual petitions to recall Silvey, Chandler, Bath and Christensen, read: "...failed to maintain and/or promote the physical integrity of the school district."

"...engaged in or condoned coercive methods in an attempt to obtain passage of millage."

"...participated in or condoned beyond necessity in cutting necessary service which has resulted in a detrimental effect of the health and safety of the students in the above mentioned district (Romulus)."

Because Budd was absent when some of the board action was taken, his petition reads slightly different. Instead of charging Budd with participating in the three alleged misdeeds in the recall petition, it states he "condoned" them.

Mrs. Kraft says Budd told a group of parents that he needed a certain number of board members to agree before he could call a board meeting. She contends that Budd can call a meeting if he wants to, and says this is the type of "run-around" that parents have been getting from the board.

The reason for changing the name of the group was because some people were acting irresponsibly in the name of RSOS, Mrs. Kraft said.

"Some carried picket signs with bad language and other individuals harassed some board members at their homes. We don't go for this at all," she said.

The recall petition drive has been underway since the beginning of school and the group feels it has more than enough already, but their goal is 2,000 signatures.

Mrs. Ellen Grishaber, who is also working with the group of parents to recall the five board members, may be called at 941-9049 for more information about the group.

'A funny thing happened...'

By JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

I was asked to write a column about the funniest thing that ever happened to me over the CB radio. To write about only one thing would be impossible to do because there have been so many. If you own a CB radio I'm sure you have had some pretty funny experiences yourself, and you know how many crack-ups there are on the channels.

The truckers on Channel 19 are notorious for the funnies you hear come out of them. There have been

'I wonder'

Michael Horvath, a kindergarten student, ponders a question from teacher's aide Evelyn Krug during recent testing to check out his readiness for school. All kindergartners in the Van Buren many times I have been driving down the street listening to the CB, when all of a sudden I would hear a couple of truckers joing around with each other. I have just burst out in laughter, while listening them. I also have gotten some rather peculiar stares from passing motorist's at times. I guess it looks pretty funny to them to see me laughing frantically while I'm alone in the car. Of course, I look back and why why they aren't laughing.

I'm sure the people who see this and don't have a CB wonder why there aren't any little me in white coats with big nets chasing after me.

I travel I-94 and the Southfield freeways daily. While on the road I monitor Channel 19, the laugh-a-minute station. There are soap operas you can follow. The beaver reports are plentiful. Smokey reports are ever-present and there's the north, south, east- and west-bounds that can drive you crazy. There isn't a day that goes by that I don't run into a parking lot on one of these super slabs. Here is what it sounds like on a hot day, stuck in traffic on I-94 around 4:30 p.m.

Break 19 — What's the hold-up on this wetbound I-94? The problem is that we aren't moving.

That's a big 10-4 on the not moving. I don't know what's heating up faster, me or my car.

Four Roger on the overheating. Hey, some guy parked his Volkswagon in the middle lane.

Yeah, I guess he didn't know there's no parking at this time of day.

Okey, dokey we, lookin' for her. You Westbounds, when you get to that 202 marker she breaks up and starts to move. 10-4, it's about time.

It's funny, it's insane. Whatever you want to call it, it's a typical day in CB.

Probably, one of the funniest things that happened to me was the night I was trying to help a guy who was stranded on I-94 during a snow storm last year. He was, shall we say, feeling no pain, and I thought he was pulling my leg.

I was monitoring my base when I heard "break for a base." I jumped up and said: "Come on, you have a base." There was no reply. I tried one more time. "How about that guy wanting a base." Again, no reply. A trucker yelled to him that he had a base coming back to him. I tried it one more time. "How about that guy who wants a base."

I finally got an answer: "Yeah, how you do 'in base." I thought, this can't be for real. I asked him if he needed any help and his reply was yes. Now I knew I had to find out where he was and what kind of help he needed. I could tell that I had a job ahead of me. It was like pulling teeth.

"What is you eact 10-20 right now" I asked. He reply was: "I'm not sure, but I know I'm somewhere between Merriman and Belleville roads," which didn't help me much. I asked if he were east- or west-bound, and once again the voice came back to me laughing and said he didn't know which way he was headed. I began to figure that this was a joke, but yet I knew he wasn't moving because his signal stayed the same.

I went back to him again and asked him if he knew for sure if he was really on I-94 when he hit me with a real winner. "Not anymore lady, I think I just off of it." I thought to myself, why me? What did I ever do to deserve this? I'm not a bad person, so why did it have to be me to take this call? How can you fall of I-94 (if that's possible) and then sit there and laugh about it? I knew I had to find out more information about this guy or my curiosity would drive me crazy, so I took him to another channel.

As luck would have it someone on that channel knew him and copied our conversation. They came back to me and said that they would go out and help him. I thought to myself "thank goodness, this is enough for one evening."

Whatever happened to the guy who fell off of I-94? He didn't fall off, he slid off on the ice and landed in a ditch filled with snow. His friends went out and took him home safely, as they assured me of this after his rescue.

I took a ride past his car the next day just to make sure that it all hadn't been a dream, and sure enough the car was there in the ditch buried up to it's side windows. It was a situation that wasn't too hilarious at the time but whenever I think about it now it strikes me pretty funny.

Hunter's Moon 'stars' in October's skies

The moon again will be the highlight in the sky this month, as in September, with the Hunter's Moon and a partial eclipse of the sun.

"The Hunter's Moon of the 26th is the first full phase following the Harvest Moon (Sept. 27 this year)," said University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh. "Both moons have practically the same characteristics — a slight delay in rising from night to night, resulting in full or nearly full moonlight for several early evenings in succession."

As for the eclipse, Losh reported that the new moon of Oct. 12 will be seen as a partial eclipse of the sun over a large area of the earth's surface, including all 50 states.

It will appear as a total eclipse in a narrow band across the Pacific.

"In order to have a solar eclipse, the moon must be at new phase and pass between the earth and sun so that it cuts out some or all of the sun's light," Losh explained. "At the beginning of the eclipse, the dark moon will first show up at the western edge of the sun, becoming more apparent as the eclipse progresses. Locally, the middle of the eclipse will come around 5 p.m., and the last contact will be about an hour later, before sunset."

She added that during the partial eclipse, one should be able to see the dark disk of the moon silhouetted against the background of the bright sun.

"As always in viewing a solar eclipse, no matter how partial, extreme caution should be exercised to protect the eyes," warned the astronomer.

Among other astronomical highlights of the month:

— Daylight will be shortening noticeably in October, from somewhat less than 12 hours at the beginning, to about 10 hours and 20 minutes by the end.

— The month's prominent stars include Capella the Goat, rising in the far northeast around sunset.

"The third brightest star visible from northern latitudes, Capella has a temperature and yellow color very much like our sun," Losh said. "It is close to three faint stars that form a small triangle representing the goat's kids, and it also serves as one of the corners of the constellation Auriga."

"If the earth could be placed halfway between this star and the sun, the star would send us more than 100 times as much light as the sun," commented Losh. "But in spite of its beauty, Capella was not a favorite with the mariners of old, who called it the 'Rainy Goat Star'."

Coming up a little north of east about an hour after Capella is one of the most celebrated groups in the heavens, the Pleiades.

"Six of these stars are quite clearly visible to the unaided eye," Losh said. "Although the group has no exceptionally bright star, it is among the best known of all the groups. Their rising with the sun heralded the summer, and their rising at sunset meant that winter was at hand."

"The celebration of All Saint's Day and All Hollow's Eve can be traced to the worshipping of the Pleiades by the ancients."

The planet Venus will continue in October as the bright morning object in the east before sunrise. Jupiter is rising around midnight, Mars follows about an hour later, and Saturn appears about three hours before the sun.

WCRC yard to locate in Romulus

The growing importance of maintaining the extensive roadway systems within populous Wayne County, particularly the heavily traveled county primary roads and freeways, was highlighted Friday with a groundbreaking ceremony for a new Wayne County Road Commission Central Maintenance Yard facility in Romulus.

The $8.9 million, 6-building complex, which will include an automated truck wash building and service station area, will be equipped to service all road commission vehicles—from large, multi-tonnage cranes to sweeper-vehicles and large, heavy duty trucks seen daily working on Wayne County area roadways.

Expected to be completed by December 1978, the new facility will be funded from a bond issue, approved by the Michigan Finance Commission earlier this year.

Michael Berry, chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, noted that "in order to provide better public service, it is incumbent that the commission be able to properly maintain its equipment."

"This new maintenance facility will permit our employees to do even a better job than they have in the past...providing the proper repair areas, a complete parts and related backup service, such as a machine shop and paint booths," Berry said.

Joseph M. Herron, the commission's vice-chairman, added that "service is the only product of the road commission and, since the cost of new construction has risen considerably in recent years, maintenance is a vital necessity today."

"We must keep up what we already have until new funds are found to permit additional construction," he said.

Commissioner Freddie G. Burton, currently in his second 6-year term, said: "When completed, the new facility will permit the commission to reduce expenditures currently expended to maintain several old, antiquated commission facilities, most notably, the commission's 50-year-old Wayne Yard, located in the City of Wayne."

The commission plans to close the Wayne Yard and centralize a number of commission operations at the new central maintenance yard complex, which will total over 213,000 square feet and include indoor parking storage for the commission's fleet of vehicles and equipment.

Since the commission's maintenance department is the largest single operation—more than 600 employees, the project includes construction of a 10,000-square foot administrative office building.

In addition, the new facility also will provide space for various commission activities such as machine-tool operations, carpentry shops, mechanical-electrical equipment repair, laboratory testing and sign shop.

Located in the City of Romulus, on a 38.5 acre county-owned site near Detroit Metropolitan Airport, between Middle Belt and Merriman roads, off east-bound I-94, the centrally located facility will provide commission work crews with quick and easy access to the nearly 1,800 miles of roadway under the jurisdiction of the commission—including some 400 miles of state trunkline and freeway maintained by the road commission.

The new facility was designed by Ellis-Naeyaert-Genheimer Associates Inc. of Troy. The project's general contractor is the Barton-Malow Co. of Oak Park.

Coming soon

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Friday for the Wayne County Road Commission's new $8.9 million Central Maintenance Yard facility in Romulus. The new yard will be located northeast of Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The 6-building complex will handle all maintenance and heavy repair work of the commission's vehicles and equipment, in addition to providing space for storage of vehicles, sign and paint operations, laboratory testing and electrical-mechanical equipment repair, plus office and administrative facilities. The architectural design by Ellis - Naeyaert - Genheimer Associates Inc. of Troy.

Students walk on Saturday to aid needy

Romulus school students will participate in the city's fourth annual "Walk For Underprivileged Children" to provide a happy Christmas for less fortunate youngsters.

Sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees, the 20-mile stroll will take place Oct. 20, rain or shine, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

To participate, students must have at least five pledges each from friends at a minimum of 10 cents a pledge. The walk will start from Romulus City Hall, and free hot dogs and pop will be given at the half-way point to all walkers entered in the event.

Co-sponsoring and helping in the fund-raiser are teachers from Romulus High and North and South Junior High schools.

"We hope as many people as possible will take part in this year's Walk For the Underprivileged Children," said Fred Coleman, walk chairman, and Jim Siewicki, Romulus Jaycee president.

"Previous proceeds have made approximately 700 young Romulus kids happy and we want to do ever more this year," Coleman said.

Students, parents and businesses have annually donated approximately $3,000 each year.

Coleman pointed out that parents and businesses are requested to only give pledges to students who have an official "Walk for Underprivileged" pledge form, stating they walked on Oct. 22 and signed by Fred Coleman and Jim Siewicki.

The co-chairmen asked that donations be made by check whenever possible. Individual pledges can be mailed to Coleman at the high school, 9650 S. Wayne Road, Romulus.

Parents and businesses who donate at least $5 will be listed in an advertisement in the Romulus High School yearbook.

Students must collect pledged money and turn it in no later than Nov. 4. Prizes will be awarded to each walker who collects more than $100. The top ledge getter will receive a grand prize, to be announced later.

A dance is tentatively been planned by the Romulus Jaycees on Nov. 4 for the students who walk in the fund-raiser.

"This is our way of saying 'thank you' to those who help us with this worthy project," Siewicki said.

Grant funds look at historical sites

A historical sites survey, the third of three city grants department projects initiated in as many weeks, has been announced by Mayor James C. Stewart.

The latest, as described by project director Aaron Jones, will involve citizen volunteers doing the research and leg work required to compile a survey of an estimated 25-30 buildings, or sites, of historical or architectural significance located in Romulus.

The purpose of the study, as defined by the Michigan Historical Commission, which oversees such projects state-wide, is to preserve valued sites from high rises, parking lots, highways and the wrecker's ball.

Jones added that historic site inventories also are useful tools for planning the growth and development of a community.

"The grants department has been investigating the creation of a planned historic district in the old town area for some months now," Jones said. "This survey and a mural project (see related to on Page A-1) may be the impetus needed for establishing an old town renewal effort to be jointly pursued by the city and local businessmen."

However, to be successful, he warned that Romulus will need broad-based support for the project from professional people, as well as concerned citizens.

A preliminary meeting was held last week with members of the Romulus Bicentennial Commission to discuss the feasibility of the project. The result of that meeting was a pledge of support for the survey and an appeal for other citizens to become involved.

In practical terms, the work will require local architects, lawyers, engineers and planners together with civic leaders, businessmen and concerned citizens to trudge throughout Romulus in search of farmhouses, churches, schools, factories, railroad stations, gravestones, gazebos and other buildings that hold some significance to Romulus' past.

'This survey ...may be the impetus needed...'

Then, with pen in hand, they will have to complete a 26-item form describing the site.

This information, together with a photograph, will be transcribed to special index cards to be filed with the state. The state will then evaluate the findings and choose which ones will be nominated to State and National Historic Registers.

However, the usefulness of the survey doesn't stop there. The survey also can be used to further preservation action through public information programs, planning policy decisions, special ordinances, comprehensive survey programs, renewed use of historic structures and related research or data compilation.

Jones said the state will assist in training volunteers for the program.

All interested residents are invited to become better acquainted with their city and its past by contacting Aaron Jones in the grants department at the City Hall, 941-0666.

Roman asks candidates to submit their literature

The Romulus Roman is ready to collect campaign literature from Romulus candidates running for City Council, Treasurer, Clerk Mayor in the Nov. 8 election.

Recently, The Roman outlined its idea to collect all campaign literature handed out, mailed or delivered in Romulus on behalf of candidates. The newspaper asked that candidates cooperate with the plan and bring or send in the literature before it is distributed generally.

The purpose of this proposal is to stop "dirty tricks" in the campaign before they start, or at least make the public aware of who is, or is not, responsible for them. By agreeing to supply literature to The Roman, a candidate is letting the public know what literature he or she takes responsibility for. If "phony" literature appears on the streets, The Roman will caution voters to disregard it.

By asking candidates to print the name of the printer on each piece of literature,

The Roman can verify its source and make the public aware of who is putting it out.

In this way, the proposal is a safeguard to candidates and the public alike.

The Roman also asked citizens receiving "suspicious" literature, anonymous letters and the like, to send it in so the staff may research its source.

The Roman does not intend to "screen" campaign literature sent in. The Roman will not attempt to verify or check out claims made in literature. The purpose of this system is merely to insure that candidates are willing to take responsibility for whatever is said in the literature. Naturally, candidates have the right of free speech to include any statements they want in their brochures.

All campaign literature sent to The Roman will be held in strict confidence, so that the information contained in the literature is seen by the public, and by opposing candidates, only when the candidate releases it publicly.

Citizen committees or private citizens who put out campaign literature on behalf of candidates, or against candidates, also are asked to cooperate with the Roman in submitting the brochures ahead of time and taking responsibility for them.

Candidates who already have agreed to cooperate include William M. Oakley, seeking election to the mayoral position, and Helen Gallien, who is running for treasurer.

The Roman asks that other candidates inform us of their intention to cooperate.

The Roman invites suggestions from candidates and citizens regarding this literature proposal and other means that might be used by the newspaper to assist in monitoring the campaign.

The Roman is hopeful that the Romulus campaign this year can set an example of fair play that citizens can expect in all future elections.

To keep you warm

Utility prepares for cold weather ahead

NOTE: While most of us are enjoying the last fleeting warm of the fall season, one company is looking at the winter months ahead. This story is how one of the state's public utility's is making sure you'll be warm this winter.

The sweet days of autumn are yet ahead of us. Warm days with sapphire skies, football at the alma mater, leaves of crimson and orange.

We don't think too much of the cold winter to follow; somehow, we manage to block that out.

But the nip in the night and the frost in the morning will soon warn us that winter is coming, and sure as sin and sorrow, and we better be ready to accommodate ourselves to it.

At Consumers Power, the accommodations are a priority item right now, meaning the Company is rapidly obtaining all the coal, oil, gas and uranium it needs to meet customer demand when drifts pile high across the driveway.

Because commerce and industry are in high gear, and homes and schools must be kept warm, winter presents a special challenge for a utility that both electrifies and heats.

Coal has been rumbling into the company's storage piles in Muskegon, Essexville, Erie Township and Port Sheldon Township from the hills of southern Ohio and Illinois, Kentucky and northern West Virginia. Oil has been flowing into tanks near Kalamazoo and Essexville from Canada and wells in the northern Lower Peninsula.

From the vast natural gas fields of Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, from smaller fields in Michigan and from the synthetic natural gas plant in Marysville gas has flowed into the company's huge underground storage fields in southwest and southeast Michigan and near Cadillac.

Twelve tons of uranium have been loaded into the Big Rock nuclear plant near Charlevoix (one-fourth of its total fuel load) and the little plant with the former world's record of 343 consecutive days of generation is ready for winter's blasts. The uranium that will be used when the company's nuclear workhorse, Palisades, is refueled early in 1978 has been fabricated and is being stored in Hanford, Wash., awaiting the word for shipment. Palisades has been running at 91 percent capacity this year — a remarkable performance — and has not needed new fuel since 1976.

So Consumers Power is as ready as possible for winter.

But getting ready is expensive.

But example, coal under contract is being purchased at about $25 per ton delivered to our plants. Ten years ago, coal cost about $7 per ton delivered. More than 5 million tons of contract coal, and almost 1 million tons of spot-purchase coal at about $30 per ton delivered, will be burned in 1977, so just coal alone will cost Consumers Power more than $150 million this year.

The company plans to accumulate 100 days supply at each of its 14 coal-fired units by Dec. 6, the day a United Mine Workers Union strike could start. This amount would carry the plants through the worst of winter, even if there is a long strike.

Last year, the 11 oil-fired units at the Karn-Woodcock complex in Essexville and at the Bryce E. Morrow plant near Kalamazoo generated about 15 percent of the company's electricity. This year, a new 600-megawatt unit at the Karn plant could increase that percentage.

Canadian crude and residual oil and a heavy fuel oil called "Energy Stream" with a high British Thermal Unit content provide most of the fuel for oil units at Essexville. The rest comes from Michigan wells developed by Consumers Power and the company's subsidiary, Northern Michigan Exploration Co. (NOMECO). Six million barrels of oil will be imported from Canada this year and 10 million in 1978. The residual oil for the Morrow plant is purchased from oil distributors both in Michigan and Illinois.

Gas is available for the company's 928,000 residential customers and 64,000 commercial and industrial customers for this winter.

Its storage fields are nearly back to where they were before last winter's freeze sucked about 89 billion cubic feet from them. Supplies from Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. and its subsidiary, Trunkline Gas Co., will continue to flow through winter months, with possible federal government allocations the only present threat to that assured supply.

The synthetic gas plant at Marysville will again produce enough gas to help Michigan residents avoid the shortages that Ohioans and other experienced last winter.

In addition, NOMECO will produce from northern Michigan about 11 billion cubic feet of gas in 1977 and continue that level of production into 1978, giving Consumers Power about 3 percent of its total natural gas production — meanwhile providing some of the feedstock needed by Marysville.

Barring unforeseen developments, Consumers Power expects to have all the fuel it needs to keep its 1.2 million electric customers and 992,000 gas customers supplied with energy this winter.

Advisory council to plan for EDC

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has authorized an advisory council to plan a Wayne County Economic Development Corporation (EDC) to provide greater public bonding power for business growth and expansion.

In addition, the board approved a series of recommendations designed to lure new business and industry into the county, including an "early warning system" that would flush out "major problems" before they began to stifle business and industrial expansion.

The latest action, taken on Sept. 20, directs the Wayne County Advisory Council for Business and Community Development to write a formal proposal, including articles of incorporation, to be presented to the board for approval.

Under terms of the 1974 Economic Development Corporations Act, public hearings must be held before an EDC is established.

The recommendations came from the Wayne County Advisory Council for Business and Community Development, a group consisting of 15 members from business, labor, government, and education, in a report titled "Improving the Atmosphere for Progress and Growth".

Wayne County Commissioner Edgar Harris (D-Taylor), chairman of the board's Public Works Committee, hailed the board's action "as the strongest commitment yet to assist local communities with commercial development".

"There are a lot of businesses that might want to move into Allen Park, Taylor, Ecorse or other small communities in the county — but they can't borrow the capital to build," Harris explained. "The EDC will have the power to issue bonds to finance new plant construction or remodeling. 'The company would then pay rent until the bond issue was retired and it assumed full ownership'."

"That means more jobs for the community as well as a greater tax base."

Harris has been in the forefront of efforts to get legislation passed that would make Wayne County more attractive to businessmen and industrialists.

He authored both the EDC resolution and the one which created the Advisory Council in 1974. The EDC resolution was co-sponsored by all six other Public Works Committee members.

Which way to go?

Motorists traveling to East Lansing for the Michigan State-University of Michigan football game Saturday should encounter few traffic problems on routes leading to the stadium area, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. However, two construction areas on I-96 could cause slowdowns for football fans from the Detroit and Grand Rapids areas. Detroit-area motorists will find a 1-mile stretch of I-96 reduced from three lanes to two both ways near Kensington Metropark. I-96 also is reduced to one lane each way for bridge deck repairs at the junction of US-131 just north of Grand Rapids. East Lansing streets leading to parking near Spartan Stadium are 1-way inbound prior to the game and 1-way outbound afterward. There is parking for approximately 18,000 vehicles with a $2 charge at campus-operated lots. Shuttle buses are available at the campus commuter lot at Farm Lane and Mt. (not shown on map). The commuter lot has free parking lot for 6,000 vehicles with round-trip shuttle costing 75 cents. The lot can be reached by exiting northbound I-496 at Jolly Road, one mile north of I-96, and by following the signs posted along the way. Kickoff for the game is 1:30 p.m. The Auto Club advised motorists to arrive at parking lots no later than 12:45 p.m. to avoid missing the kickoff.

56 airs '77 film festival

"Film Festival '77," the Channel 56 series celebrating great achievements in the motion picture industry, opens its fall season with the 1965 Julie Christie, Academy Award-winner "Darling" on at 10 p.m. Oct. 15.

Miss Christie plays a young London model who uses sex as a ticket to the top. Directed by John Schlesinger, the film has been described as an effective statement on the mores of our time.

"Caesar and Cleopatra," with Vivien Leigh and Claude Rains, runs the following week, Oct. 22, at 10 p.m. Bernard Shaw's 1945 spectacle claims to be the costliest British film ever made. It's actually a Shavian satire about the aging Roman emperor and the beautiful, but unstable, Queen of the Nile.

"Jules and Jim," the once-controversial story of two men who fall in love with the same woman (she sees no harm in having both), is scheduled for Oct. 29 at 10:30 p.m. The 1962 film is considered one of director Francois Truffaut's best.

Films to watch for in coming months are "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow," with Sophia Loren and Marcello Mastroianni; "Hobson's Choice," starring Charles Laughton and John Mills; "Knife in the Water," Roman Polanski's first — a tour de force; and "Miracle on 34th Street," the Edmund Gwenn holiday classic.

TODAY'S Real Estate

by M. Phyllis Crabtree

The residential cycle may begin in a small, furnished, rented apartment, but the next step in family life is often the purchase of a home. The newly built family, with small children, may buy a small new or used house and build up an equity. The family may later sell this in favor of a larger house. Later, demands of children call for expansion, or for the purchase of another, larger house. Retirement often indicates the need for smaller, more easily maintained home. Where are you on the residential cycle?

Kevin Barnes and Roy Rutherford of Belleville recently took part in Eastern Michigan University's Community Night Sept. 24.

Community night is an annual event, which is designed to allow high school students see their former classmates play college football and to get acquainted with Eastern Michigan.

The evening included a tour of the Ypsilanti campus, dinner picnic, greeting by College President James H. Brickley and entertainment, climaxed by a gridiron confrontation between the EMU Hurons and the McNeese State Cowboys.

Downriver teens find cleaning can be 'Whiz'

Sometimes it takes an act of God to get a teen-aged boy to clean his room, but in Woodhaven, seven teenagers are cleaning rooms and liking it.

The seven ranging in age from 15 to 18, attend either Woodhaven or Carlson High schools. They have joined a local firm called "The Carpet Wizards," and are gaining experience, independence and some spending money as well.

The firm is owned by Frank Treece, a McLouth Steel Corp. foreman and Ron Campbell, owner of Campbell's Chop Shoppe in Romulus. The business is new — since Aug. 15 — but so far, the jobs have been plentiful and the compliments many.

The staff works in teams and in a rotation system to fit in homework and sports. During the summer the average work time per teen was 28 hours; fall and schooltime dropped it to about 12 hours a week.

The teens are Dave Waltz, 16, a junior at Carlson; Keith Frost, 17, a senior at Woodhaven; Frank Treece, 17, a Woodhaven senior; and Phil White, 18, also a Woodhaven senior. They find that meeting different people and handling their problems is a challenge.

Others, like Bill Treece, 15, a sophomore at Carlson; Wally Tackett, 15, a sophomore at Woodhaven and Bob Tye, 16, a Carlson junior, said it is a good experience while they are choosing a career.

Most are enrolled in the vocational classes offered by the two school districts, ranging from building trades to welding.

Frank Treece said he has been proud of the work his teen employees have already accomplished.

"Our first job was a 10,000-square-foot bowling alley complex in Allen Park and they did well," he said, adding that working for the firm, which is based in Woodhaven, not only has taught a vocation, but the skills of running a business, such as scheduling, bookkeeping and the repair of the machines.

"The boys are becoming skilled in every aspect," Campbell added.

"They know they are responsible for a job and the care and cleaning of the equipment later."

Two of the teens travelled to Arizona this summer to study with the Chemo-Ko Co. and learn the use of the cleaning machine.

The teens agreed that spilled milk is common, as is mustard, salad dressing and even grease.

"If properly treated, we can manage," they claimed.

Mold is the most difficult to work with, they agree.

The two owners hope to get the boys into the sales, repair and installation side of the business and to work something out with the vocational departments of Woodhaven and Carlson High schools so that the teens will gain work credit.

Wahstenaw college nets federal grant to set up 'network'

Washtenaw Community College has received a $36,184 federal grant for a Community Network Project to assist under-educated and under-employed individuals in better utilizing human services offered within the county.

The project will involve Washtenaw Community College, 10 public school districts in the county, Eastern Michigan University, as well as human service agencies in the area.

Initially, surveys will be conducted among under-educated and under-employed individuals and within the organizations and institutions providing them services.

The surveys will help identify community needs and problems. As these needs are recognized and solutions developed, seminars and workshops will be offered within the network of educational institutions. The activities will be designed to assist individuals in gaining new skills for employment, or in receiving appropriate services from area agencies.

A clearinghouse will be established as part of the project to provide information on services available to the under-educated and under-employed persons.

"We are very pleased to be able to establish the Community Network to serve a portion of the county population which is not now being adequately served," WCC president, Gunder A. Myran, said. "The network is being established cooperatively with the county school districts, WCC and EMU. This gives these institutions an opportunity to work closely together, pooling resources and expertise to the benefit of adults who are in need of their services," he said.

Funding for the project was approved by the Michigan Department of Education under Title I of the Higher Education Act.

School districts participating in the Community Network are Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake, Willow Run and Ypsilanti.

An editorial opinion

Was Riegle's intervention really necessary?

For months now, the citizens of Romulus have been forced to wear the tag of cuckoos in the cuckoo's nest.

Troutt supporters have claimed that Mayor Stewart was responsible for that title, while Stewart supporters claimed that it was Troutt's flair for low-level politics, that had earned the community that handle. Well, we think it is now clear that the responsibility for Romulus' being referred to as the cuckoo's nest rests equally with both camps.

Last week, the final chapter was being played out at city hall regarding the efforts of a city employee to secure his pay. It seems that an employee named Mike Herman, who has been with the city for the past two years, had requested and was granted, a 30-day leave of absence.

When Herman returned, following that leave, he discovered that the City Treasurer John Lewkowicz had made the decision, quite on his own, and contrary to the facts, that Herman had quit his job and therefore was not eligible for reinstatement.

Lewkowicz, in spite of the fact, that he had in his files, a signed authorization from the mayor for Herman's leave, refused to give Herman his checks, which the payroll department had already processed.

After Herman pressed the issue with Lewkowicz, the treasurer apparently decided that this was too weighty a problem for him to handle himself, and requested that the Romulus City Council get involved.

Rather than grabbing the opportunity to use their offices to resolve the problem, the Romulus City Council once again stuck their heads in the sand, and weakly requested that Lewkowicz should just use common sense in dealing with the problem.

Lewkowicz, whose common sense seems to run to not taking any action at all, again refused to provide Herman with his check.

About this time, Herman contacted his attorney, who began preparing a suit against the city of Romulus to recover Herman's lost pay.

Lewkowicz, apparently having run out his string, on his "make Romulus look bad to make Troutt look good" program, then offered to deliver Herman's money provided that Herman drop his lawsuit against Lewkowicz and the city.

To Herman's credit, he did not bite. Rather he decided that if Lewkowicz could refuse to follow the directives of the mayor and the city council, maybe he should go higher.

His 'higher' consisted on contacting U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle's office in Allen Park.

The female employee of Riegle's office indicated that the issue of Herman's back pay was not one that the senator would normally get involved in. But, when Herman pointed out the precedent established in the past in a similar situation, when it was necessary for an employee to go to the late Sen. Hart for aid, she said she would pass the information along to Riegle in Washington.

Within minutes Lewkowicz's phone rang and the caller identified himself as Sen. Donald Riegle. Lewkowicz's secretary, not familiar with politics, asked the caller to spell his last name please.

Within five minutes following Riegle's call to Lewkowicz, the Troutt team's candidate for treasurer, personally delivered Herman's back pay checks to him.

This incident, more than any of the other macabre incantations emanating from city hall, provides the residents of Romulus with insight relative to how their city has come to be known as the cuckoo's nest.

Officials dedicated to themselves or their politics have never been in short supply in Romulus, but officials willing to take a stand on the hot issues is what is needed.

The issue of Herman's paychecks indicates that John Lewkowicz has chosen the role of 'the spoiler', not to defend principle, but rather to make the city look ridiculous. In doing so, he has violated his oath of office, and has succeeded in his attempts to exploit controversy.

What other city in the entire country would stand for the intervention of a U.S. Senator in their internal affairs? We think that Lewkowicz has embarrassed the entire city by his actions.

If Lewkowicz had felt that he was right in the Herman controversy, he should have asked Senator Riegle to politely mind his own business.

If he knew that he was wrong, he should have resolved the issue himself.

The Bald Eagle Speaks

The clones are coming

By BOB AMEEN

A recent issue of the "Saturday Review" carried an article describing earth-shaking research, which if successfully carried through, would lead to ways of altering man's physical and mental makeup in the not too distant future.

What is even more fantastic is that the alteration would take place before birth! By tampering with the normal genetic structure of human life and substituting a variety of methods of impregnation, other than that given us by the Creator, such revolutionary and Frankenstein imitations of man could be fabricated.

The magazine article was an excerpt from a book called the "People Shapers," by Vance Packard, a knowledgeable author well known for his book entitled "The Status Seekers."

Brought out in the article were such science-fiction and undreamed of things as being able to duplicate another human being now alive; for example, should a loved son or daughter get killed early in life, another exact model could be artificially created.

Also deemed possible by authorities quoted by Packard is multiple parenthood. Parents could be assured of a portion of themselves being incorporated in their newborn child, along with selected characteristics of other humans — the intellect of a genius, the looks of a famous movie star and the strength of a super athlete.

Techniques of such heretofore unthought of accomplishments are quite complicated to say the least, but many experts in the field of genetics and closely-allied areas believe such "human" creations are on the immediate horizon.

Mentioned in the article are such feats as producing large numbers of low-intellect humans whose lot in life would be performing nothing more than menial chores. In other words, these unfortunate beings would be mass-produced, much like automobiles, to do the drudgery work of the world.

Also cited is the term "cloning." This is also mass production, but in a different sense. In this case, thousands, even millions of beings would be produced, but all would be an exact copy of the original!

All would be carbon copies of each other. Also possible with these man-devised methods of reproduction is the ability of a mother to order an exact replica of herself!

But, all is not gold that glitters! Rearing up its ugly head is the unpredictability of such unearthly manipulations of what had always been considered the domain of the Almighty. Scientists shudder when they look ahead to a deadly virus sweeping through large numbers of identical human creations of their making because each share a common non-immunity.

As if the previously mentioned, custom-ordered human reproductions are not enough, Packard mentions the distinct possibility of combining humans and animals genetically! With such a method at their disposal, scientists envision pairing genes of humans and apes or chimpanzees to produce a subhuman species to perform tasks human might prefer not to do.

Possibly, these same scientists believe they would be elevating man's closest kin to the exalted rank of human. But, would not this reproductive procedure also be reducing humans to the role of a member of the animal kingdom?

In any event, authorities quoted by Packard, as well as those mentioned in recent newspaper stories, are split on whether man should be probing into such uncharted and divine waters.

However well-intentioned such ventures into the unknown are, the ramifications of the terrible and disastrous events that could happen should such alterations of man's makeup be put into actual practice, are serious enough at this point in time to warrant through evaluation and study.

Man has been considered by some to be a pawn in the game of life created by a supreme being of infinite powers. Would that pawn, once he has mastered the process of making and remaking modified versions of human life, stop at that plateau? Or, would he delve even further into mysteries bordering on the infinite and attempt to create other supreme beings?

The ramifications of such endeavors are infinitely infinite.

A trip into the past

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

The ball came leffing slowly through the air, and that would be the last mayhem free moment for the next two hours.

The opening scene for the game of the year between the two unbeaten rivals of the Great Lakes 8 Suburban Football League, brought with it the suspense that only died-in-the-wood football fans can experience.

A must game for both teams, according to their respective coaches, the contest between Wayne Memorial High and Dearborn Fordson, held the promise of being one of the season's finest.

For me, the game between Wayne and Fordson would provide a trip back down memory lane.

As a 1954 graduate of Fordson High School, the 23-year absence did little to kill the ever-burning spark within.

Tom Mooradian, ANP Sports Editor, had invited me to attend the 'game of the year' with him. Lothar Konietzko, ANP chief photographer, had picked this week to go on vacation, and Tom needed a photographer. So, I had volunteered.

I have, in the past several years, been unable to find the time to invest in following the high school football scene, but I was soon to find that the thrill was still there.

During the course of the game I found myself looking ever to the Fordson side of the field with a wistful feeling growing inside of me.

The hope of recapturing a portion of my youth was just too great to resist, and I eventually made my way over to the visitors side of the field.

Under the guise of a news photographer (and the pictures I took proved it was just a guise), I walked among the Fordson players lined along the edge of the field.

The journey through the players soon became a trip into the past — when I had been standing in their place.

I vividly recall the boundless confidence of my youth, a period in my life when I thought I knew exactly what I was doing and where I was going. A feeling, I might add, that I have seldom felt since.

The young intent faces, almost hidden by their protective helmets, seemed to register curiosity as I walked past. There was a growing desperate urge inside of me to force those young men to recognize me as one of their own. I struggled to resist the temptation of grabbing the nearest player and shouting in his face that I also once fought the good fight for good old FHS.

At the same time I experienced the sickening feeling of youth lost, a time when I knew all of the answers but applied almost none of them to my life.

As I walked slowly away from that instant replay of my wonderful youth, the final whistle sounded, ending the game.

I looked back over my shoulder to see my victorious team gathered in the middle of the field, writhing in their final huddle.

To my surprise, I suddenly realized that I was still a part of that team. My past triumphs, amplified by the passage of time while my past failures diminished.

I was indeed a part of that final victorious huddle, only my teammates were different.

Health Beat

Seduced by the glass eye

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

I'm convinced that if I were to take a survey in the cities of Western Wayne County — or any other part of the State or Nation for that matter — I'd be hard pressed to find even 20 percent of the citizenry who could describe with any accuracy the operations of a modern-day hospital.

Far too many people, I'm afraid, have been seduced by that big glass eye in the living room; that glass eye which is constantly polluting our homes with inanities and grandiose nonsense.

Our principal means of communication in the last quarter of the 20th century is the electronic medium: a medium also known as the telly, or the tube, or the TV.

I want to write today about hospitals and the people who make those hospitals functional. During the course of this piece, I'm going to contrast what I feel to be the real hospital world with the hospital world promoted by TV.

Let's take a look at a very successful series which ran for several years. I'm not going to identify this charade by title, because I'm using it only as a metaphor and the proper title is not really necessary or germane. Still, I think you'll recognize what I'm going to describe.

Here's the scenario. A patient enters a doctor's waiting room, and surprise of surprises, the waiting room is empty. Now I ask you, when was the last time you saw something like that in the real world?

And maybe we should take at least a cursory look at that real world. Wayne County has a population of approximately 2.7-million people. To serve that population's medical needs, there are approximately 3970 licensed physicians (3390 MD's and 580 DO's).

If you get out your electronic calculator and do a quick long division problem, you will at once see that each physician has an average of 680 patients. I recognize, of course, that all of the population in the County will not require the services of a physician simultaneously. But my point is, the odds of walking into a physician's office — especially a family practitioner — and finding that office empty are so long that they defy rational mathematical calculation.

Forget honesty for a moment (clearly that's one of TV's strong points anyhow!) and get back to the world of fictional medicine. Our patient has entered the empty waiting room, and is at once greeted by an RN at the desk. The patient is ushered into an examining room, and presto, not one, but two MD's appear to serve this patient.

Now that's really outstanding primary medicine, but it sure raises mischief with the numbers cited above in our long-division exercise. Still, I'm certain that TV script writers have never worried themselves too much with the niceties of realism. After all, TV programs are nothing more than vehicles for Madison Avenue pitchmen and pitchwomen (pitchpersons?).

The older of the two physicians (there's always an older and a younger partnership) will prod and nod, listen and question before turning the pampered patient over to the younger man. And you can bet that in TV's never-never world, the younger MD will be long-haired, leftist, and liberal.

The doctors, acting in concert, agree that the patient requires hospitalization, and the patient is whisked off to a magnificent facility which seems to be staffed with every specialty known to contemporary medicine. I wonder what the daily room rates must be in some of these TV hospitals.

Evidently to show that the older doctor is a super humanitarian, the script writers have sometimes shown him driving his patient to the hospital. I suppose such chauffeur service is all right when you consider that the physician has no one in the office waiting to be treated anyhow! And horror of horrors, I've seen the younger doctor pop some one on his motorcycle for the drive to the hospital.

The patient enters the hospital, and within three blinks of an eye is safely ensconced in a private room decorated with contemporary art, flowers, fresh fruit, and 25 hot and cold running nurses.

Now the plot begins to unfold (and, to dignify some of these stories with the noun plot, is charitable beyond obligation).

The patient, it seems, is always diagnosed as suffering from some exotic malady and immediate and risky surgery is required. It appears that TV patients never settle for appendicitis or gall stones!

Law would reduce accidents from unsafe tires

Legislation to keep unsafe tires off Michigan highways has given final approval by the Michigan Legislature.

State Senator David Plawecki, sponsor of the measure, says that the bill defines "unsafe" tires and establishes minimum tire tread depths.

"Enactment of this legislation should help cut down on traffic accidents caused by tire blowouts," said the Western Wayne County Democrat. "Although police officers currently have the authority to ticket motorists for driving on unsafe tires, they have no guidelines for determining when a tire is hazardous."

The Plawecki legislation bans the sale or use of automobile tires with less than one-sixteenth of an inch of tread. The minimum tread allowed for trucks would be one-eighth of an inch in front and one-sixteenth of an inch in the rear.

The bill also bans tires with cord or tread separation, exposed belts, cords, or plys and tires that are worn nearly bald.

"The minimum tread level for trucks specified in my bill is identical to the tire safety standards recently established by the Governor for double bottom tankers," said Plawecki. "I am confident that the Governor will quickly sign my bill into law so that we will have a precise standard for safe tires on both automobiles and trucks."

Under the terms of the Plawecki bill, a motorist ticketed for unsafe tires would not have to pay a fine if adequate tires were installed on the vehicle before the court date specified on the ticket.

"The purpose of this bill is to reduce traffic accidents by getting unsafe tires off of Michigan roads," said Plawecki. "By allowing a motorist to replace the unsafe tire instead of paying a fine we will be getting to the root of the problem."

Total house cleaning always lost cause

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

When I was cleaning house the other day and moving period pieces of junk around trying to get to the fuzzy-wuzzys who seem to have a life of their own, the mailman came.

And he brought the latest copy of "Reader's Digest," which gave me a good excuse to sit down on one of the period pieces and ignore the fuzzy-wuzzys which were clinging to my legs while I read an article on how to get rid of junk.

NOW THE author of the article is obviously a rather new house owner and husband and father...because he hasn't given up yet.

If he had been married over ten years, he would know that in no way is he going to get the little women to give up that beat-up old colander she had picked up at some rummage sale. And in no way is he going to get his son to give up the box full of "neat stuff" he's filched from the neighbors' alleys.

I spent my first years of motherhood in frenzied attempts at keeping an alley full of junk and a house junkless. And then I gave up. I gave up after a hot summer's day when one of my kids came running in over my newly waxed floor, shouting for me to come and see the neat thing he'd just found.

"Gee, mom," he said, "I don't know how Jr. Jones could throw away such good stuff."

He made a go-cart out of the neat stuff and the kid down the street got too close to it and it chewed off his leg.

"No more junk," I said to my kids, but they kept lugging it home anyway, because, like they said, the stuff they brought home wasn't junk...it was good stuff that the dumb people around the block were throwing away.

EVEN MY kids' father is at heart a junkman. About the time our son made the go-cart, my love brought home a brand new set of golf clubs.

"Oh good," I said. "Now we can get rid of those bags of clubs you have in the basement." My love gave me a shocked look and said, "Are you kidding? You never know when I might need one of them." And he took the bag of clubs he was replacing and put them with the other 25 bags full he had in the basement.

"Someday I might conquer the game and become famous," he explained, "and then these clubs I practiced with will be worth a lot of money."

"Gee, dad," my littlest kid said. "You sure are smart." Then he ran off and got all of his beat-up catcher's mitts and brought them down and said he was going to start a collection, too.

Naturally, this idea caught on and pretty soon we had to add a room to the basement which one of my kids decided was his "pad" and there he stashed away all of the "Playboy" magazines he found in a trash can five blocks away.

I think I'll put that "Reader's Digest" with the other magazines I've collected over the years, and maybe five year's from now I'll write that author and see how he's making out. That is, if I survive.

I live with a fear that there's some of that neat stuff stashed away that's going to eat off one of my legs. Or maybe I'll just lose out to the fuzzy-wuzzys.

Inmate reflects

A sobering thought on fatal accident

This story is a product of Southern Michigan Prison's Inmate Writing Program, sponsored by Mr. Jess Van-Dusen (517 782-0301). It is being typed while I am inmate No. 8776 at SMP (Jackson). I am using my home address because at home is where I hope to be by the time this reaches you.

'I will never know how I had managed to survive that 42-mile drive.'

High school and a dairy farm home were 11 months behind me. I had been down and almost out in a nearby city when a utility company picked me up and placed me in its vehicle upkeep department. Big deal, for a guy who loved cars, hated cows! Fat paychecks kept me feeling my independent oats and, after work on that cold-rain Friday, I would be heading home for what might have been the merriest Christmas weekend of all.

During our lunch break a mechanic had passed a fifth of "holiday cheer" and I got my first taste of hard liquor. Its afterglow offset the brief agony of getting it down, then—well, it seemed that I was the only garage man who had not brought a bottle that day. By quitting time I had gulped gin, brandy, bourbon and some imported stuff. I was high. But I wanted more, so I could stay up and soar.

On my way home I had stopped at a bar—another first in my life. (State legislation had legalized liquor for 18-year-olds.)

I will never know how I had managed to survive the 42-mile drive. I recall only that, as I had crossed my hometown's ancient, unlighted, two-lane bridge, an oncoming car appeared—lights switching beams, horn blasting. I finally got the message: I was straddling the centerline (the rain had turned to sleet and my wiper blades were faulty but I was bleary-eyed anyway). I got back in lane quickly but too late.

It had seemed a minor sideswipe. I maintained control, kept going. My rearview mirror reflected the other driver's fate as his car slammed into one side of the bridge, careened across into the other side almost head-on, plowed through a guardrail, toppled into the deep river.

The action had sobered me a bit but insufficiently to notice the red traffic light—or the police car—on a corner. I flunked a sobriety test, went to jail and saw rearview mirror replays until I begged out. I called a deputy to my cell and told him what had happened on the bridge.

Two days later, Christmas Eve, the sheriff had escorted me to the county morgue. "Here lies Santa Claus," he said, partially uncovering a bruised and bloated body. "The poor guy couldn't swim. We located his remains this morning, two miles downstream."

"Santa Claus—?" I had asked, a sick-at-heart knot in my stomach.

"Yeah, kid. Everybody's somebody's Santa Claus. We found a dozen soaked Christmas packages when we recovered his car from the river. He leaves a wife and four youngsters. Think about that, son! Consider the grief you gave his family this Christmas. Then contemplate this: Every twenty-three minutes, around the clock and calendar, another drunk driver becomes a Santa Claus killer, adding up to some twenty-three thousand—roughly half of all traffic fatalities in America last year. And even if he or she is killed in April or August or any other month, would anybody's Santa Claus be missed any less when Christmas rolls around...?"

The judge had been lenient. I will be free again this Christmas. My folks still love me; still want and need me at home—and, believe me, our dairy herd would look beautiful to me right now! Besides, there is a neighbor girl who frowns lovingly on my being footloose. So, still seeing rearview mirror replays, I plan to go back home.

Meanwhile, my mind is hung up on this thought:

The sheriff should have taken others—hopefully not but perhaps especially you—to the morgue with me.

NOTE: The accident happened in 1972. The kid was paroled from the Michigan Reformatory in 1974. The sheriff's statistics have been updated with current data from the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol Information.

Public help is urged to help handicapped

To the Editor:

"This week is National Employ the Handicapped Week and it is a major national event celebrating the abilities of disabled people." A worthy goal for all society, employers, private citizens and governmental officials alike is to create a climate that assures equality for the disabled.

How can you help celebrate this week? By being more sensitive to their problems and concerns. They don't want charity but a chance. They want opportunity. They want full civil rights in housing, transportation, barrier free design and employment.

Based on national averages, 7,432 citizens of Westland's population or one in twelve are disabled. Most have a relationship with some disabled person. Every third or fourth family is troubled by disability.

Be a friend of the handicapped. Help them to help themselves.

Knock down attitudinal barriers that work against their first class citizenship. Get involved by being an advocate for the handicapped.

5 Millage bids are defended

To the editor:

In reply to Gil White Jr.'s letter regarding school officials "badgering" the Romulus Community with 5 millage elections.

He has a point, a point which the Board of Education has discussed many times. However, I as a School Board member consider his point negative to say the least. What other way do we have of providing the Romulus "Public" School children with an education?

None. We are obligated to the kids of the Romulus Community Schools, to do everything legally and morally possible to give them the education they so rightly deserve.

Yes, I agree $21,777 spent on 5 negative elections is a lot of wasted money; how I wish it could have been spent on music, art and gym and even sports, but again I ask what alternative do we have?

Whatever your feelings on school officials, past or present, please remember the most important issue here is—"The Kids"—without a decent school system Romulus is dead.

The King and his three sons

BY THE REV.
FLOYD ELLISON
Community United Methodist Church of Romulus

If someone gave you the Fisher Building, what would you do with it?

The king had three sons. When each son reached the age of 18 the king called him in and said: "I am now giving you your place in the kingdom, a castle atop a small mountain beside the Rhine River and surrounding fiefdom. Your castle will be on the next hill from your brother's castle. You have it to do with as it seems best to you for five years, after which I will visit you and learn your stewardship of the castle and fiefdom. If I determine you have used it well, I'll renew your tenure. You may remain, and indeed, if it pleases me, you will gain further reward."

The oldest brother began to build onto his castle to strengthen its fortifications—taller towers, higher walls, more rugged battlements, windows narrowed to slits through which to shoot arrows. Surrounded mostly by sheer cliffs, the castle was approachable by a single drawbridge. He furnished the interior lavishly with works of art and decorated with fine fabric and rare woods.

He shared this elegant setting with selected royalty, but usually they paid a stiff price for the privilege. Any traveling nobility who wanted to come to see this renowned aerie was charged a month's "rent". His poor peasants, who worked the steep land below, were required to turn over such a high proportion of the produce that they nearly starved to fill his storehouse to excess so he could dine sumptuously.

The second brother decided first of all to build a high free-standing wall half way between his and the warring brother's castle. He sent to distant lands and imported art treasures, jade, porcelain and silks from China, carved ivory from India, classic marble statues from Greece and Rome. To outdo the oldest brother with a fabulous place he needed more revenues. He proceeded to narrow the river below so that all shipping had to pay toll and at the roads he erected toll gates.

He was benevolent to a degree, allowing certain fraternal societies, charities, and guilds to hold parties or festivals at the castle—in return for a sizable stipend. Usually, a group, learning the fee demanded for the first time after the festivities, would find it to dear to repeat the experience.

The third brother said to himself: "I don't need all this room for myself and family. I'll just keep three small rooms for an apartment." He industriously began building several wide roads leading to the castle, with loading docks at the river.

He opened the imposing structure to any charitable group, those of the "community chest" of that day, any guild doing a good work. They would use the place on a regular basis to provide their services. This youngest brother enthusiastically collaborated, allowing that they may make a donation for fuel and upkeep, if they could.

He built a large dining hall where the local poor or weary travelers from afar could get a decent meal. He built a chapel of great beauty so they could have opportunity to praise God for his manifold mercies, while they sojourned there. Large storerooms were constructed so the poor could come and get provisions—food, clothing and necessities—at a pittance, donated by folk from all around. This brother built rooms for lodging, for study, a reading room and library. He let an order of monks come in and learn there, hold classes and help run the kitchen, the chapel and dispense the charities.

When it got going it rivaled the great monastery of Mont St. Michel. Much mud and snow in season got tracked in, but there always seemed to be plenty of willing hands keeping the place tidy, cheerfully serving the needs of the throngs of smelly, unlovely, rejected people.

When the king, their father, after five years came for his promised visit, each son gave him a tour of his castle, showing it off proudly. To the third he said: "Well done, good and faithful son, you have exercised stewardship over the property entrusted to you befitting one who takes the Lord Jesus as his Master." Thereupon, he cast out the first two sons and gave their castles to the third.

"He who has ears to hear, let him hear," Jesus was wont to say after a parable. A disciple of this century responds: "I grasp plain words easier."

The Spirit of Jesus replies: "One has told a parable along the lines of my parable of the Talents (Matthew 25:14ff.). It is similar to the lesson in the Old Testament, First Samuel, first chapter, where the barren Hannah, wife of Elkanah, besought the Lord to grant her a son, whom she promised to return. Samuel was born to her, and was accordingly dedicated to the Lord through the priest Eli. Blessing and reward are granted where there is willingness to give them up, placing them in the employment of the Lord. It is like my saying recorded in the four gospels: "Whoever seeks to gain his life (including possessions) will lose it, but whoever loses his life (for my sake) will preserve it (Luke 17:33, Matthew 10:39, 16:25, etc.)."

Many Christians don't readily recognize they are in positions like the three brothers. They with others are making decisions whether to use the assets entrusted to them for a time, either in ministry (serving), or in trying to preserve the assets like buried treasure, or defending them from outsiders like a fortification. Is there some "castle" in your life that is misappropriated? Or are you serving the Lord with all you "possess"—by letting it go?

Final Super Ride set for Saturday

The final March of Dimes Super Ride will be held this Saturday at Hines Park, starting at 8 a.m. and wrapping up at 4 p.m.

The ride will be part of one of several annual Bike Days on the parkway, when the thoroughfare will be closed to motorized vehicles.

Registration points for the Super Ride will be at Merriman Road and Telegraph Road along Hines drive.

The Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes Super Ride '77 offered 18 different super routes on Sept. 24 and 25 for the convenience of bicyclists who could choose to ride the 50-mile course near their own neighborhoods. Approximately 7,000 rides participated to date and approximately $180,000 is pledged for the ride.

However, bikers who missed those rides, can use the Hines Park Super Ride as a make-up ride. All they need do is bring their original copy of their sponsor form to Hines Park Saturday.

Co-sponsors of this event were Vernors, who generously provided R.C. Cola for all super riders, and WRIF, the pilot station for Super Ride '77. Ron LeFlore, Detroit Tiger, was honorary chairman, with Arthur Penhallow and Michael Stevens, WRIF, general co-chairmen.

Participants who turn in their pledge money by Oct. 25, will be eligible for special super prizes. Grand prizes are every Capitol release for 1978-79, courtesy of Capitol Records, and an all expense paid trip for two to Disneyworld, courtesy of City

National Bank. Many more prizes will be drawn in the Super Sweepstakes drawing. In addition, anyone who turns in $100 or more will receive a white nylon Super Ride windbreaker.

Super Ride sponsor forms are available at local bike shops. For further information, call 863-3000.

'Leading national advocate'

Ford named to migrant ed panel

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has been named chairman of the Interstate Migrant Education Task Force of the Education Commission of the States.

The appointment was offered by Dr. Otis R. Bowen, governor of Indiana and chairman of the Education Commission, who called Congressman Ford the "leading national advocate for migrant workers and their children," and termed him the "ideal person for the chairmanship".

Congressman Ford accepted the offer with enthusiasm, and wrote Gov. Bowen: "I am delighted and honored by your invitation to serve as chairman of the task force ... because of my deep and continuing concern about the problems involved in assuring adequate education and increased opportunities for the children of migrant workers."

In the chairmanship, Congressman Ford will succeed Gov. Raul H. Castro of Arizona, who has been named ambassador to Argentina.

Congressman Ford, now chairman of the Postsecondary Education Subcommittee, served four years as chairman of the Agricultural Labor Subcommittee, and became a prominent spokesman for the nation's estimated 215,000 migrant workers.

"These workers have some 500,000 children scattered throughout the 48 continental states and Puerto Rico," Congressman Ford said. "By the very nature of their parents' occupations, they are forced to change schools frequently, and their education therefore suffers to a considerable extent."

During this subcommittee chairmanship, Congressman Ford led a successful fight to continue funding of the High School Equivalency Program and the College Assistance Migrant Program — both designed to help disadvantaged migrant youth continue their education.

Congressman Ford was primarily responsible for the Congressional extension in 1974 of the Migrant Education section of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which was refunded through 1979.

"There still is a lot that needs doing," Congressman Ford said. "We especially need to encourage more interstate cooperation on educational programs for migrant laborers' children. I look forward with eagerness to the challenge of this chairmanship."

Drawing test

Every kindergarten student in Van Buren School District is being tested so they might find their respective strengths and weaknesses and enjoy school more. One of the first students tested was John Austin, who was asked by Len Schnegelsberg, school psychologist, to draw a picture of a boy. Such early testing can get students off to a real good start in life, school officials say.

Rep. Law readies to ban tandems

Legislation dealing with the safety problem caused by tandem tanker trucks carrying flammable materials should be ready for legislative action later this week or early next week, State Rep. Robert C. Law (R-36th District) reported today.

Law said the House Roads and Bridges Committee worked on the legislation (HB. 5288), and he expected it to report a substitute bill to the full House of Representatives last week.

During the committee session Law offered an amendment to ban double bottom tanker trucks carrying flammable materials from the highways during peak traffic hours. He also said the peak hour ban legislation will be introduced later this week as an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Code.

H.B. 5288 sets standards that tandem tanker trucks will be required to meet. Each truck will require certification by the state fire marshal's office and the bill provides the additional appropriation to provide the manpower to inspect these vehicles.

The double bottom tankers will be banned from all Michigan roads during the peak hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"We are hopeful that this action will greatly reduce the threat to human life," he said. "That must be our highest priority."

"The safety problem caused by these trucks is an immediate and serious problem. There have been several accidents that have resulted in the death of people and have endangered the lives of still others."

Law said he expects quick action once the bill reaches the full legislature so that immediate inspection, certification and enforcement can begin.

Health Department explains ban on asbestos products

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has proposed a ban of two consumer products containing inhalable asbestos — consumer patching compounds containing asbestos and artificial fireplace ash containing asbestos.

The commission believes that certain types of cancer may result from inhaling free-form asbestos fibers released into the air during the use of these products, a Wayne County Health Department spokesman said.

The asbestos content of a given product is not necessarily the sole criterion for that product's relative health risk. A health risk occurs when asbestos fibers become airborne and can then be inhaled. Freeform asbestos is that which is not bound or otherwise "locked-in" to a product and, therefore, can readily become airborne, the spokesman said.

Consumer patching compounds are available in dry form (to be mixed with water by the user) or in a ready-mix paste form and are used to cover, seal or mask cracks, joints, holes and similar openings in the trim, walls and ceilings of building interiors. Asbestos fibers are released into the air after application, when the patching compound is sanded or scraped in the process of finishing or smoothing the surface, he said. Asbestos also may be released into the air when the dry form of patching compound is mixed with water prior to use.

Approximately half of all patching compounds sold contain asbestos. These products generally do not have ingredients listed on the label. The commission is proposing that manufacture, distribution and sale of these patching compounds be prohibited 30 days after a final banning rule is published in the Federal Register.

Artificial fireplace emberizing materials (ash and embers) are used in gas-burning or artificial fireplace systems for decorative purposes. When subjected to high temperatures, the asbestos in these products produces a glow similar to real embers and ash, the spokesman explained.

Asbestos fibers are released into the air when the emberizing material is sprinkled on the fireplace floor, when glue used by the consumer to attach the material to an artificial gas-burning log melts at high temperatures, and when household air currents disturb the ash.

These emberizing materials, or "fake ash," usually sold as part of a package, which included a ceramic or non-burning fireplace log designed for use in gas burning fireplaces. Artificial fireplace logs, usually made of pressed wood or paper which can burn, are not included in the ban.

Consumers who may have used these asbestos materials and may still have last year's ashes in their fireplaces are warned that special precautions are to be used in removing and disposing of these hazardous, cancer causing materials, the spokesman added.

3.A.1. Motion by McAnally, supported by Lee, to adopt Resolution 77-569.

Resolution 77-569

WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan; and

WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area; and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. The Industrial Facility Tax for a new plant in an industrial development district is determined by the ad valorem property tax levied by the municipality instead, however, of using the total mills levied, only half the millage rate is applied; and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the owners of property to be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial development district; and

WHEREAS: Seibert Oxidermo, did on September 27, 1977, submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:

At age 65

Proposal would end forced retirements

Michigan employers could no longer force employees to retire at age 65 under a measure introduced in the Michigan House by State Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) and Dennis Hertel (D-Detroit).

Under the measure, any person able to perform job duties satisfactorily could not be forced by their employer to retire. The bill requires the Civil Rights Commission to establish procedures for employers to use in determining if a fire fighters and law enforcement officials.

"I introduced this bill because the advantages it would provide far outweigh the costs imposed, and because it is my feeling that mandatory retirement is definitely discriminatory," Bullard said. "In my opinion, forced retirement can contribute to, or cause, mental or physical health problems for older workers."

Hertel pointed out "The loneliness and idleness of retirement can contribute to depression, neurosis, alcoholism, or physical illnesses, and that the highest incidence of suicide among males occurs in the 60-and-over age group."

Opponents of the ban on mandatory retirement have argued that it would rob people of job opportunities. However, Bullard said the average age in the United States is now on the rise and as a consequence there could be fewer teenagers looking for jobs, and more senior citizens wishing they still were employed.

"In addition, the fact is that the prohibition of mandatory retirement really would not have much affect on the job market," Hertel said. "Most persons are ready to retire willingly by the time they reach 65."

"Essentially what I'm trying to do is increase alternatives for senior citizens," Bullard said. "This proposal does not discourage or penalize retirement, but it does make possible continued work either for personal fulfillment and satisfaction or to meet economic needs when pensions are inadequate."

Cavett Show joins lineup

The new season on PBS and Channel 56 is highlighted by the premiere of the nightly "Dick Cavett Show," the appearance of some new mini-series and some adventurous specials.

Cavett, whose witty and probing, one-on-one interviews seem ideally suited for public TV, will host a timely half-hour each weeknight beginning Oct. 11. Channel 56 will carry the show in prime time, at 10 p.m. On nights when delayed by special programming, the "Dick Cavett Show" will air immediately after the special.

Also new this fall is the "Wodehouse Playhouse," Saturday nights at 8, beginning Oct. 8. The series comprises 13 half-hour comedies based on the gentle and humorous, classic short stories of P. G. Wodehouse. It stars John Alderton and Pauline Collins of "Upstairs, Downstairs" fame.

Beginning Oct. 27, a major new, American-produced historical dramatic series premieres. Called "The Best of Families," the 8-part series follows three fictitious American families through the recession and technical revolution of the late 1800s. Included are a struggling Irish-American family; the middle-class Lathrop-Baldwin family; and the upper-class Wheelers.

Although it won't premiere until Nov. 7, "Over Easy" will present entertainment and usable information all geared toward older people (55 years and up). Hugh Downs hosts every weeknight at 7 p.m.

Other new series this fall include "Parent Effectiveness," a how-to series which interweaves illustrative scenes from the lives of six families with classroom guidance in improving family relations. It airs Tuesdays at 7 a.m., beginning this week and is repeated Fridays at 12:30 p.m. and Sundays at 2:30 p.m.

From rhythm to harmony, "Music" (premiering Oct. 15 at 2:30 p.m.) will instruct and involve all ages with illustrative compositions of rock, gospel, baroque and many other forms of music.

Public TV will continue to spice each week's programming schedule with specials, with "Canal Zone," (Oct. 8, 9 p.m.) the newest avant-garde documentary produced by Emmy Award-winner Frederick Wiseman and filmed in the 10-by-50-mile strip of Central America which the U.S. has owned and operated for more than 60 years.

Otterbacher bills improve economic climate

Sen. John R. Otterbacher (D-Grand Rapids) has unveiled a major legislative package aimed at improving Michigan's economic climate by providing incentives to create new jobs and easing excessive tax burdens on businesses.

Otterbacher said three of the four bills in his package were aimed at correcting what he sees as a major flaw in the Single Business Tax, which he cited as "the extent to which the current tax provides a disincentive to the creation of new jobs."

"At a time when our state tax system should stimulate employment, the Single Business Tax essentially penalizes business and industry for maintaining existing jobs, creating new jobs, or providing decent compensation for either," he said.

According to the Grand Rapids Democrat, the most significant of his bills would authorize a tax credit to any Michigan company that increases the size of its work force beyond the projected annual employment growth rate of business in Michigan.

"This bill is the cornerstone of the package because it provides a mechanism for job expansion in the state without relying on the federal government for direction and assistance," Otterbacher emphasized. "It is targeted at the creation of jobs in the private sector for those who are marginally employable, often on welfare, and hit hardest by layoffs because of Michigan's cyclical economy."

Otterbacher, who chairs the Senate Committee on Health, Social Services and Retirement, said Michigan's bulging welfare budget underscores the need for this bill.

"While this tax credit for new jobs would have the effect of lowering the state's tax collections, it would assuredly result in a savings to the state. The creation of new jobs has the direct effect of lowering welfare costs and unemployment insurance costs," Otterbacher said.

Otterbacher's second measure would lower the labor intensity circuit breaker in the Single Business Tax.

"This bill would have the effect of limiting to 60 percent of the tax base the labor and compensation costs of employees," Otterbacher explained. "It has the effect of reducing the tax burden on labor-intensive businesses, allowing them a tax deduction on all payroll and compensation costs that exceed 60 percent of their total cost of doing business."

"Like the first bill, it simply makes it easier for high employment firms to stay in or move to Michigan."

The third Otterbacher proposal would simply remove unemployment compensation and worker's compensation costs from the list of taxable items under the Single Business Tax.

Otterbacher explained that "current taxation of worker's and unemployment compensation costs amounts to unfair, double taxation and simply provides another disincentive for business to maintain or create jobs here in Michigan."

The final Otterbacher proposal would establish a progressive tax credit scale for unincorporated firms, such as sole proprietorships and partnerships.

Judge upholds ban on phosphate soap

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Theodore Bohn agreed with Attorney General Frank J. Kelley's position and upheld the recently enacted ban on laundry detergents containing phosphate. The ban makes it illegal to sell laundry detergents which contain phosphate after Oct. 1.

The Soap and Detergent Association had asked Judge Bohn to issue an injunction against the ban. Kelley argued that the ban is necessary to stop serious environmental damage to the waters of the state. Bohn agreed with that argument.

Kelley said: "I am pleased that Judge Bohn had upheld the phosphate ban. The Natural Resources Commission was very forward looking in passing the ban and the judge has been very perceptive in seeing the need for the ban and upholding it."

The ban on phosphate detergents was by the Natural Resources Commission on Aug. 26. At that time Kelley praised the commission for its action and pledged to defend the ban in court wherever necessary.

Tax incentive keeps 2,000 jobs in country

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has approved a tax incentive to ensure that 2,000 new jobs will be added at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Livonia rather than at a location in Ohio.

The county legislators, meeting Sept. 20, voted in favor of an industrial facilities property tax exemption for expansion of the Ford transmission plant.

Prospects of the exemption were a factor in the auto firm's decision to expand in Livonia instead of in Sharonville, Ohio.

Similar action already has been taken by the Livonia City Council, but approval by the county board also was required by law. The exemption waives 50 percent of the property tax on the new building, equipment and machinery for 12-year period.

In other major actions, the Board of Commissioners:

—Directed county attorneys to oppose before the Michigan Public Service Commission a $122 million rate increase sought by Detroit Edison Co., which was granted $65 million in rate hikes two months ago.

—Approved recommendations designed to encourage jobs-producing development within the 43 municipalities in Wayne County. Approval was a step toward creation of a county economic development corporation with bonding power to assist in financing industrial facilities. The recommendations came from the Wayne County Advisory Council for Business and Community Development.

—Approved a $27.5 million budget for substance abuse programs for the fiscal year starting Dec. 1. There will be no cash cost to the county. The programs will be funded from state and other sources and are administered by the Wayne County Office of Substance Abuse Services.

—Voted to extend funding of the Circuit Court outcounty courtroom program through this fiscal year. Pre-trial court services are provided in two locations — the county hospital grounds in Westland and the 33rd District Court building in Woodhaven.

—Authorized the Sheriff to hire more female deputies to guard female offenders, housed in the detention annex at Eloise in Westland. Housing of female misdemeanants became a county burden with the recent closing of Detroit House of Correction's women's division.

—Adopted a resolution urging the Congress not to raise the Social Security benefits eligibility beyond the present time. The resolution also urges steps to ensure the solvency of the system.

—Approved two resolutions calling for congressional action to extend and increase federal funding of local public works programs.

Wodehouse stories to air on channel 56

A collection of short stories by P.G. Wodehouse, one of England's great humor writers, will be televised this fall on Channel 56.

The 14-part series, "Wodehouse Playhouse," airs at 8 p.m. Saturdays, with the premiere scheduled for Saturday. Produced by the BBC and Time-Life Television, the anthology stars John Alderton and Pauline Collins (of "Upstairs, Downstairs" fame) and a 6-member supporting cast.

Wodehouse (pronounced "Woodhouse") himself recorded an introduction to each show in 1975, finishing only a week before he died, at 93, at his Long Island, N.Y., home. His best-known comic characters are the unflappable butler Jeeves and Jeeves' bumbling master Bertie Wooster.

The TV series is based on his Mulliner, Golf and Drones Club stories and features such characters as the gnu-hating Colonel Sir Francis Pashly Drake, the accidentally strong-willed Sacheverell Mulliner, a sardine millionaire, a hen impersonator, a poet couple who first met over a nut cutlet, and assorted earnest golfers.

Village plans afterhour tour

Greenfield Village's "Autumn Lights and Early Nights" dinner-tour, a fall evening program scheduled after the regular village hours, removes visitors from the harsh glare of modern neon and introduces them to the twinkle of Early American lighting on Oct. 14, 21 and 29 and Nov. 4.

The tour sheds light on the "dark ages" before the invention of the electric light bulb. It begins at the Haggerty Power House, the village pottery center, where guests observe a potter making candleholders. Then, at the Carriage Shed, the guests watch a tinsmith making lanterns, chandeliers and other lighting devices.

Next, they dine by candlelight at the historic Clinton Inn, where dutch oven chicken and pumpkin pie are served. After dinner, they take a moonlit wagon ride through the village for a look at the Susquehanna House, a colonial home of a Maryland plantation owner.

The enlightenment continues at Cotswold Forge, which once stood in Worcestershire, England. Here they observe a blacksmith making early rush light holders, which burn pithy rush stems dipped in tallow. The evening ends with a roaring fire and hot cider back at the Clinton Inn.

Advance paid reservations are required. The cost is $16 per person. Mail check or money order to Travel and Convention Department, Greenfield Village, Dearborn 48121.

"How can handicapped persons attend funerals, visitations?"

We have facilities at UHT Memorial Funeral Home to make it easier for handicapped persons and the elderly. For example, we can provide the use of a wheelchair and we have designed our entrance and rooms to make it convenient for them.

Please let us know in advance if such equipment may be needed, just as you might with an airline. This assures that such equipment is immediately available. Advance notice can save embarrassment for you, the mourners and our staff, especially if we were to have several handicapped persons on hand at the same time. We can also be of service in finding certain equipment needed by the handicapped at home. Hospital beds and items for physical therapy are sometimes hard to find. We may be able to direct you to sources for them.

Higher Tar Cigarettes Lose Taste Exclusive.

Taste dominance of higher tar cigarettes challenged by MERIT breakthrough.

REGULAR and MENTHOL

For years, you couldn't get real tobacco flavor without high tar. Low tar cigarettes just couldn't measure up. Until MERIT.

Until a breakthrough in tobacco science resulted in a way to boost tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

New PTO executive board

Executive board members of the Haggerty School PTO were introduced at the first meeting of the year. Kicking off the school year and setting up the program were (from left) Mrs. Gerry Grieve, president; Mrs. Barbara Thomas, vice-president; James Fitch, teacher vice-president; Mrs. Dulce Jacobson, treasurer, and Mrs. Sharon Charkiewicz, secretary.

At opening meeting

Haggerty PTO formulates plans for new school year

Parents and teachers joined together to kick off the school year with a very interesting PTO meeting. The new executive board introduced included Mrs. Gerry Grieve, president; Mrs. Barbara Thomas, vice-president; James Fitch, teacher vice president; Mrs. Karen Charkiewicz, secretary, and Mrs. Dulce Jacobson, treasurer.

As the teachers, parents and school principal, Clyde Batzer, planned the activities for the coming year, the youngsters were cared by members of Girl Scout Troop 668. Among items on the agenda were resolutions to sponsor Girl Scout Troop 668, Cub Scout Den 821 and Mrs. Janet Oliver's dance recital. Other discussion pertained to the Santa's Secret Shop, the PTO Carnival and a school picnic.

As a matter of new business a square dance is planned for all adult members in October. There were many good ideas shared and committees were formed to carry out the plans.

As the group adjourned for refreshments they learned that Bob Gray's fifth-sixth grade class and the first graders of Mrs. Connie Nagle's room would share the honor of having the most parents in attendance. Ice cream treats were awarded to the two classes the following week.

All members of the PTO are invited to attend the meetings which are held every third Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Haggerty school.

GS councils to go 'all out' for recruits

For the first time, all four Girl Scout Councils in the tri-county area are combining efforts in conducting an all-out recruitment campaign for adult volunteers. Participating councils include the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit (most of Wayne County), Northern Oakland, Southern Oakland and Otsikita (Macomb County).

The councils report that their waiting lists are filled with the names of hundreds of local girls who want to be Scouts, but can't because there aren't enough leaders or troops in their areas. So, the goal of this campaign is to recruit enough volunteers to make Scouting available to every girl who wants to participate.

The requirements for being a Girl Scout volunteer are few. All one needs is a little spare time and a genuine interest in working with young people. There is a mistaken belief that one must be a parent of girls to be a Girl Scout volunteer. All adults, men as well as women, from young singles to senior citizens, are eligible to be volunteers.

No special skills, experience or education is needed. Free training in leadership and other skills are provided by the Girl Scout councils.

Training classes are set up at various locations, during the day and in the evening, so as to offer volunteers maximum convenience. Additional assistance is available at all times.

To accept calls from potential Scout volunteers, the tri-county councils have established a special "hot line" which will be in operation 24 hours a day. The number is 569-5807. Anyone interested in serving as a leader, co-leader, committee member, resource person, or in various other capacities, can contact the "hot line" for additional information.

Leland T. Schmidt earns law degree

Kenneth Schmidt of North Shore Drive, Belleville, received his degree of juris doctor (civil law) "with distinction" during commencement exercises at the Thomas M. Cooley Law School in Lansing. He was one of 48 students to receive his degree on Sept. 18.

Members of his family attending the exercises along with his parents were his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Kowalski; another aunt, Mrs. Ruth Badger and her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Badger Hamm, and his grandmother, Mrs. Louise Dahnke.

About deadlines

As is the case with most human beings, we fail to see what we're not looking for or fail to see what we don't want to see.

In this particular instance we are referring to deadline notices which we attempt to print each week on the Suburban Living pages — boxed in notices that say "Suburban Living Deadline, Thursday, 2 p.m."

There's a reason for this deadline, be assured of that. We have to have time to prepare copy to be taken to the typesetters in our production office in Wayne.

With news coming across our desk and via the telephone throughout the day, there has to be time in which to write, re-write and edit copy as well as to compose heads and cutlines and plan layouts for the next issue.

We ask that you please try to remember that 2 p.m. Thursday is the cut-off time for accepting news which you expect to see in the following week's Suburban Living section. We will gladly take items after the deadline but, more likely than not, they will be a week late appearing in print.

Your cooperation will get your stories printed on time.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES G. BREZEALE

Packard Road Baptist Church scene of September wedding

Wearing an ivory satin gown which had been made by her aunt especially for her wedding day, Robin Lynn Bowman exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands Sept. 17 with Charles Glen Brezeale.

Mrs. Robert Bowman of Ypsilanti created the A-line dress which was designed with a high neckline and long full sleeves embellished with hand-clipped lace on the bodice, sleeves and hemline.

Her fingertip veil was caught to an ivory satin and lace headpiece and she carried a hand bouquet of rust mums, off-white fugi mums, yellow roses and baby's breath on a circular lace doilie.

The five o'clock ceremony conducted by Pastor Thomas Bloxom united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Richard J. Bowman of 1825 Crittendon, Ypsilanti, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Brezeale of 46832 McBride, Belleville. Some 100 guests were assembled at the Packard Road Baptist Church in Ann Arbor for the afternoon rite.

Mrs. Ila Mayes of Milan, the organist, played "Evergreen", "Theme from Love Story", "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet", "We've Only Just Begun", "The Wedding Song" and "Ave Maria" as requested by the young couple.

The bride and her father were preceded up the aisle by three bridal attendants: Julie Ann Moore of Ypsilanti, the bride's aunt who was maid of honor; Laura Jean Bullock of Ann Arbor, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. James (Linda) Darichuk of Belleville.

Miss Moore was distinguished by her mint green sheer floral print A-line gown which was worn with a matching jacket. The two bridesmaids appeared in identical gowns in melon and yellow, respectively.

All three wore hats to match their frocks and carried bouquets containing mums, carnations and baby's breath. Miss Moore's in green, melon and yellow and the others to blend with their dresses.

Infant baptized at Gorney home

By LEE SMITH

The Gorneys — Art and Sophie — had rather a busy time around their home on Fenster Avenue, Belleville, the latter part of September.

First there was the arrival of their third grandchild, Ryan James McCloskey; then the departure of their son, Fred, for college and finally the christening ceremony of the new baby.

Taking first things first: little Ryan, the son of Jim and Patty McCloskey of 22046 Fenster, Belleville, signed in Sept. 12 at 4 p.m. sharp at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti; his weight being recorded at an even seven pounds and his length at 20 inches.

Six days later the Gorneys gave a small farewell party for Fred who left Sept. 23 for his freshman classes at Michigan State University which will eventually lead to a degree in veterinarian medicine. Fred's girl, Kathy Buckle who was among those attending, later in the week joined her parents, the Tom Buckles, in treating Fred to dinner out.

Then on the 25th the Gorney home was the setting for the baptism of Ryan James conducted by The Rev. John Kluka of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The Gorneys, who are their grandson's God-parents, later entertained at a buffet party. Attending with Ryan's parents were his two sisters, 5-year-old Jamey Lynn and 4-year-old Shannon Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moss of Wayne and Dottie Weigand of Belleville.

The infant's paternal grandparents, Carl and Willie McCloskey, were expected to fly in from Newport Richey, Fla. to spend the weekend of Sept. 30 with their son and family.

Local Chamber co-sponsoring Statewide Legislative Confab

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Chamber of Commerce executives along with local chambers of commerce will co-sponsor the first Statewide Legislative Conference for Michigan Business in over 15 years. The session will be held in Lansing at the Civic Center on Nov. 9.

Concerned businessmen and women are invited to Lansing to meet with their legislators and give them this message: "The time to pass legislation to correct the abuses of workers' compensation and unemployment compensation is long overdue. The situation is unfair to both employer and employee. These abuses have cost this state jobs and an uncertain economic future."

The Legislative Conference will bring business men and women in from around the state...to meet together, confer with the legislative leaders, talk with the Governor...then go to the Capitol and in the legislative halls discuss with our Senators and Representatives these concerns and demands for legislative action.

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce is a co-sponsor in this conference. Anyone wishing to attend, please contact Leona Van-Buhler at the Chamber office, 697-7151, for a program agenda.

At Camp Crawford

Ground breaking held for new troop house

Ground was broken by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Oct. 1 for construction of a $120,000 troop house. The construction contract was awarded by the organization's board of directors Sept. 20 for the troop house which will be built at the organization's 50-acre Camp Crawford at 8483 Crane Road in Washtenaw County. The 32-member board reviewed elevation drawings of the 4100-square foot structure designed by architect Donald D. MacMullan of Ann Arbor. The construction contract was awarded to B-V Construction Company's Walter Zaszczyrnski of Milan.

The building is to be financed by a $40,000 grant from the Detroit United Foundation Capital Funds Drive as well as profits from the 1973 Girl Scout Cookie Sale and funds accumulated from prior years' sales. The building is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1978.

The combination troop house and caretaker apartment has a number of energy-saving features including a rock-heat sink which can store heat caught by solar panels which will be placed in the roof when additional funding is found.

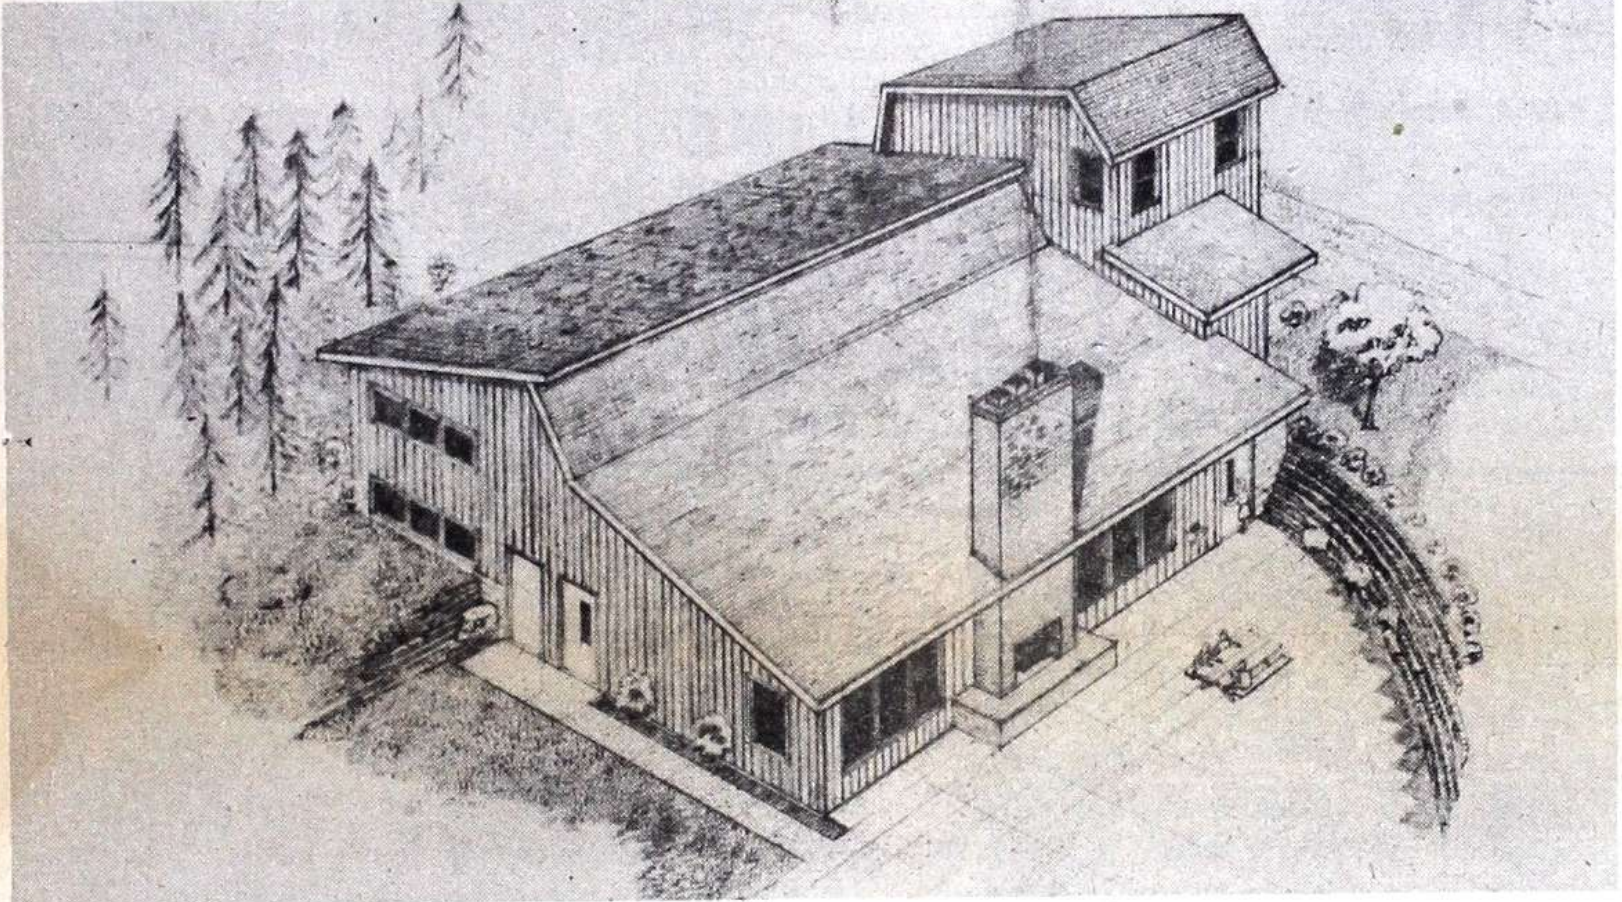

The troop house interior space will be divided into a 28-foot by 32-foot assembly hall, two 18-foot by 28-foot bunk rooms, and a complete kitchen.

"We are delighted we can build this troop house near the center of our membership. It will be a busy place, since we plan adult training sessions and conferences for mid-weeks during the winter, troop camping on winter weekends and group camping in the summertime," said Mrs. Frances Bauer of Plymouth, Council president.

Camp Crawford includes woods and marshes as well as open fields and has been popular with area Girl Scouts for nature study and day camping.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council also owns Camp Hilltop in Ann Arbor and Camp Linden in Livingston County. Architect MacMullan has designed most of the buildings at Camp Linden, including three troop houses, a bathhouse, a shower house and a caretaker's house as well as the Hunter Lodge dining and assembly hall. As a volunteer this past summer, he designed two storage buildings for the 400-acre site. MacMullan has designed industrial buildings, churches, nursing homes, schools and residential buildings since opening his Ann Arbor office in 1966.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is a United Way Agency.

It's a boy!

Pam Haase of Belleville didn't show up for her own farewell party planned by her co-workers at Associated Newspapers Friday. She had a more pressing, last-minute engagement with the stork at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. The guest of honor at that occasion was tiny Nathan Fleetwood Haase, born Friday (Sept. 30) at 6:53 p.m. The infant weighed 6 lbs., 14 oz. and measured 20 inches when he made his debut. The baby is the first child of Pam and John Haase, who are both employed at Associated Newspapers in Wayne. Little Nathan is also the first grandchild of Mrs. Haase's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Horn, who live in Florida. The second set of grandparents for the infant are Walter Haase and Ivy Haase, of Pontiac.

Throughout October

Greenfield Village highlights crafts

As fall creeps through the trees of Greenfield Village in Dearborn, visitors will be treated to a new series of Special October weekends, designed to give them a better understanding of many of the crafts our ancestors mastered.

Experts at making the necessities of life in colonial America, such as pottery, tin and glass, will provide demonstrations and explanations of the finer aspects of their crafts. Each weekend will focus on a particular craft product.

The village cider mill also will be operating each weekend. On Oct. 8 and 9 a tent in the crafts area of the village will be the center for a comprehensive exhibit on many aspects of pottery making. Two potter's wheels will be operating, one with a village potter demonstrating throwing of sample forms. The second wheel will be available to visitors who would like to try their hand at the craft. They also may take home their end product to air-dry.

Another segment of the special presentation will show various techniques of glazing and provide examples of finished pieces.

On Oct. 15 and 16 a series of special demonstrations on pewter working, tinsmithing and tool painting will be held in the crafts area. Craftsmen will carry out various seaming and construction techniques of tinware, showing both pre-1800 hand and hand-machine methods. Finished tinware will be decorated by a tool painter who will be demonstrating next to the tinsmith.

The pewtersmith will cast forms in early molds and will perform various finishing techniques. On a modern lathe, an artisan will demonstrate metal spinning and the construction of wall sconces, porringers and pewter candle holders. The Village Blacksmith Shop will be open to view wrought iron ware.

Highly skilled experts will spend Oct. 22 and 23 illustrating various types of doll constructions in the Village Town Hall. The types of dolls will range from simple rag dolls with painted faces to china-head dolls, which combine detailed ceramic faces, flexible cloth bodies and handmade dresses.

Other types of dolls being made this weekend will include cornhusk dolls, popular in the 18th and early 19th centuries and applehead dolls. This last type, made by carving the shapes of faces into an apple and then carefully drying them, produces a doll with a remarkable degree of detail and personality.

The October Crafts Weekends conclude Oct. 29 - 30 with a chance for visitors to Greenfield Village to watch the intricacies involved in glass making. The Sandwich Glass Plant will be open while craftsmen make intricate and decorative paperweights. Others will demonstrate the techniques involved in glass blowing and the variations in engraved glass.

Each of these special presentations will be available to visitors to Greenfield Village at no additional charge beyond normal village admission fees.

'Ontario Onward' kicks off YMCA's travelogue series

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA will kick off its annual Travel and Adventure Series at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, when Joe Adair takes armchair travellers on a tour of our northern neighbor in "Ontario Onward".

A native of Iowa, Adair has traveled, worked and lived in more than 40 countries in a "relentless quest to know his this earth and its peoples".

He originally planned a career in education, completing his undergraduate work at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., and the University of Northern Iowa. He holds a master's degree in education.

However, his education has not been limited to the classroom. He has followed the Midnight Sun across northern wastes, traced and retraced Africa's grasslands to photograph her people and game at home, signed and sailed with whaling expeditions to the Arctic, and been made to feel equally at home with the Moslems of Kuwait, Hindus in India and Kikuyus in Kenya.

He has lived two years in Ethiopia while serving with the Peace Corps. Adair's travelogue will survey the sprawling expanse of this Canadian province.

Resplendent in sunshine by day, Ontario glows in the softer illumination of Northern Lights by night. Travel west to lakes of beauty made rich by golden skies. Find primeval trees standing guard over the wealth of her mines. Journey east to the pomp and pageantry of State; then south to feel the pulse of a heartland rich in industry and commerce.

Ontario is a land of contrasts. Polar bears pad over lands that never thaw while grapes burst in the summer sun. Fishermen find lakes and streams teeming with fish as fruit trees blossom to blanket a land with their promise of a harvest bountiful.

The series will be held in the auditorium of Wayne Memorial High School, located at the corner of Fourth and Glenwood, east of Wayne Road, in Wayne.

Tickets for the travelogue cost $2 for adults at the door, $1.50 for students. Tickets also are available from the YMC office, 827 S. Wayne Road, Westland, or by calling 721-7044.

Twyla Tharp's Dancers and Dances, the well-established, non-establishment dance troupe, will be presented in Detroit for the first time by Music Hall Center on Oct. 14 and 15.

Evening performances are at 8:30 p.m., and there is a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. The Tharp Dancers are the first attraction in Music Hall's 1977-78 Dance Series, which includes classic, modern and gymnastic dance groups.

At the Music Hall, the Twyla Tharp Dancers will do two completely different programs. On Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, they will perform "Simon Medley," choreographed to music by Paul Simon and created for an upcoming television special; "Cacklin' Hen," to country and western music; "Mud," with music by Mozart; and "Eight Jelly Rolls," danced to the music of Jelly Roll Morton.

Tickets to see the Tharp Dancers are available through the Music Hall box office.

By MAUREEN BEATTY

George Pfeiffer returned from Europe and became manager of "Lippman's Tool Shop Sporting Goods", in Detroit. He began giving instructions in spin fishing, a technique he learned in Germany.

New to this country, the idea caught on. George's pupils included such notables as Arthur Godfrey, Ted Williams, Gordie Howe and Buddy Parker.

"Lonesome" George began his radio career with Bud Guest, Charles Park, Dale McIntyre and Ron Gamble on WJR in 1948. That same year he appeared on TV with Jack Van Coevering, then editor of the Detroit Free Press, in "Woods and Waters", the first outdoor show of its kind in this country. In 1951, "Lonesome" joined Mort Neff on "Michigan Outdoors". Filming movies about fishing, he brought them to "The George Pfeiffer Show", as a guest. "Lonesome" George appeared frequently on both shows for 25 years.

In 1955, "Lonesome" George started "Water Safety Observance" in the State of Michigan by working with the sheriff's departments first in Oakland County and then in Wayne County. George's "Water Safety Observance" is now recognized throughout the United States.

"Lonesome" George Pfeiffer is listed in the "Outdoor Writer's Association of America. Depression Glass Society sponsors annual show, sale

The Michigan Depression Glass Society will present its fifth annual Show and Sale of Depression era glassware at the Ypsilanti National Guard Armory on Oct. 15 and 16. The hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 16.

The Society was formed in 1972 by a group of collectors of Depression Glass. Their purpose was to educate, assist, and encourage other glass collectors, and to aid in the preservation of Depression Glass.

Depression Glass was relatively inexpensive glassware, made in many shades of pinks, greens, yellows, ambers, blues, amethysts, reds, and white — as well as clear glass. It was primarily mass-produced by machine during or very near the years of the Great Depression by many glass factories throughout the country.

Major glass producers during the Depression were McKee Glass Co. and Jeanette Glass Co. of Jeanette, Penna., McBeth-Evans of Charleroi, Penna., Hazel-Atlas of Wheeling, W. Va., Federal Glass Co. of Columbus, Ohio, Anchor-Hocking of Lancaster, Ohio, and Indiana Glass Co. of Dunkirk, Ind. These companies still are busy producing glassware for today's home, but no longer in the patterns and colors so popular during the Depression.

Collectors of today, in order to differentiate the glass produced by the mechanized glass companies and that produced by the hand work companies call the machine-made glass "Depression glass" and the handmade glass "Depression Era Glass." The show at the Ypsilanti Armory will consist of both types of glassware.

Back in the '30s, colorful tumblers were given away at movie houses and fairs, water sets were given away with a purchase of $3 or more at grocery stores, or, for a number of coupons, a treasure of colored glassware would arrive by mail. Many pieces came as premiums with boxes of cereal, tea, soap, or flour.

When mother could save an extra dime or quarter, she would hurry down to the local store to purchase more glassware in the pattern she had chosen. At one store, more than 10,000 19-piece water sets at $1 a set were sold during a 3-day sale. Also, in 1935, a 32-piece set of dinnerware was offered to the public for a mere sum of $1.59. The set consisted of six cups and saucers, dinner plates, bread and butter plates and sauce dishes, a platter and an open vegetable bowl. This same set today would sell for around $65 to someone collecting this set.

Since many different patterns and colors were offered in open stock, gathering a complete dinner service was not only challenging, but a fun thing to do. Housewives pieced together their sets of dinnerware just like they pieced their lives back together. Each piece of glassware obtained was a little step forward.

Although this glassware was used and enjoyed by the families of the '30s, many pieces have survived intact to be enjoyed and used by the collectors of today. Looking for this glass at auctions, flea markets, home sales, or shows, perhaps, holds the same intrigue and excitement as it did for our mothers and grandmothers of the '30s.

Many clubs, such as the Michigan Depression Glass Society, have been formed to allow collectors to get together and learn more about their glass. Most clubs now hold annual shows, along with many local displays in libraries, malls, or civic areas.

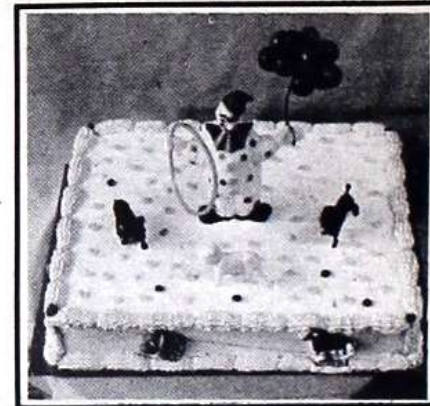

The October show and sale in Ypsilanti, the fifth annual sponsored by the Society, will feature 22 dealers, from Michigan and six other states, showing glassware in all colors and in all price ranges. Past shows have seen attendance of more than 1,200 for the 2-day show, and included collectors from 152 Michigan cities as well as six states and Canada.

There is a $1.25 admission.

Walk aids Diabetes program

The first Western Wayne County Walk to Beat Diabetes will be held Saturday by the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate.

The walk's 10-mile route will start at Westland Center at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads and continue on Wayne to Ann Arbor Trail to Stark Road, then on to the Hines Parkway to Haggerty Road.

Registration will be at 8 a.m., with the actual walk slated to start at 9 a.m.

Sponsor sheets can be picked up at local schools and area merchants or by calling 288-6010 or 342-9333.

A portable color TV will be awarded to the statewide Grand Prize winner who collects the most dollars. Other prizes include portable AM-FM radios, $50 and $25 Savings Bonds, 2-piece set of luggage, GE Clock Radio and Backpack, donated by local merchants.

The proceeds of the walk-a-thon will help support ADA-M's programs, including diabetes research to find a cure, testing to find undiagnosed diabetics, education to teach diabetics how to take better care of themselves, and programs for diabetic youth, including special, medically supervised summer camping.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death in the nation, the leading cause of new blindness and a major factor in heart attacks, stroke and kidney failure.

YWCA forums to survey crimes' violaters, victims

The Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA of Western Wayne County has planned a series of evening forums dealing with crime—its violaters and its victims.

Fourteen people who spend their working lives counseling and aiding both violaters and the victims of crime will be involved in the November series.

On Nov. 1 Margaret Cook, chairperson of the Domestic Assault Committee of the Women's Commission will be the keynote speaker, discussing the findings on the Hearings on Wife Abuse (Governor's Report). The three workshops that day will be Rape Education, lead by Annette Amici, criminal sexual assault educator and counselor for the Community Crisis Center in Dearborn; Battered Wives, lead by Diane Winderham, assistant director of Sisters for Human Equality (Lansing); and Family Counseling and Family Crisis Shelter, with Lucile Cantoni, area director for the Family Service Group of Detroit and Wayne County.

The Nov. 8 program will begin with a discussion by Howard Hertz, JD, juvenile defense officer (Wayne County), on the Juvenile Code revision, with emphasis on status offenders.

There will be four workshops following that keynote speaker:

—Counterpoint will be discussed by Barbara Bergstrom, the community outreach coordinator for the runaway shelter. Counterpoint is the place where young people ages 12 through 17 in out-Wayne County can find safe, temporary shelter, while they work with a trained staff.

—Alternative Education will have as its guest speaker Virgil Weaver, who is the teacher at ALTRA School (grades 10 through adult). The school was opened in 1976 in Dearborn by the Wayne County Intermediate School District for students who cannot grow successfully within the traditional school environment.

—Exploring Long-term Care will be lead by Thomas McIndoe, who is the executive director of Girl's Town, Loch Rio. The agency is a member of the Michigan Federation of Private Child and Family agencies.

—Care of Victims of Incest will have as its guest speaker Bennie Stoval, CSW, supervisor of Special Family Problems Service, Children's Aid Society.

On Nov. 15 the keynote speaker will be Lucile Cantoni, discussing reporting law. The workshops to follow will be Parents Anonymous of Michigan; Child Protection Laws, with Marvin Kornegger, Protective Services of the Department of Social Services; Sexual Abuse and Attacks on Children, with Laura Williams, ACSW, director of social services for the Children's Aid Society; and Boarding Homes, Institutional and Respite Care, with Bruce Binstock of the Methodist Children's Village.

The month-long program will begin at 7 p.m. with registration and refreshments. The general assembly will follow at 7:30 p.m., with the workshops slated for 8:30 p.m.

There is a $1 admission charge per forum, which can be paid in advance. Advance registration is advised, to allow YWCA officials to arrange for the proper amount of materials and spacing for the workshops.

For further information on the program, contact the YWCA at 561-4110.

Two fearless technicians work high atop Eastern Michigan University's Pierce Hall tower, putting the finishing touches on WEMU's new antenna. The new antenna, which will handle transmission of the campus radio station's power increase to 15,000 watts, rises 48 feet above the top of the tower. It's flashing beacon is 154 feet above ground level and 928 feet above sea level. WEMU will increase its power at 11 a.m. on Oct. 19. Its primary, or strongest, signal will reach Saline, Belleville, Milan and surrounding areas, while secondary coverage will reach FM receivers in almost all of southeast Michigan. WEMU may be heard by tuning to 89.1 on the FM dial.

Seminar to view magic, witchcraft

"Witchcraft, Black Magic and the Paranormal" is the title of a non-credit 6-week seminar to be held at Eastern Michigan University (EMU) in Ypsilanti this month.

Taught by Marcello Truzzi, head of the sociology department, the course is offered through EMU's Office of Continuing Education. The seminar is open to the public. Class sessions begin Oct. 27.

The course explores a wide range of topics related to the paranormal through lectures by visiting authorities, panel discussions and other presentations. Participants will be introduced to the broad field of the paranormal through examination of such areas as witchcraft, satanism, astrology, contemporary and traditional occult figures and experimentation in parapsychology.

Anomalies, such as UFO's, monsters and the Bermuda Triangle, will be explored and the relation of the paranormal and magic to science will be studied.

Truzzi, one of the best known skeptics of paranormal phenomena in the nation, was a founding fellow of the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal. Formed in 1976, the committee's members include Harvard psychologist B. F. Skinner, Scientific American magazine author Martin Gardner, Time senior editor Leon Jaroff and 21 other noted psychologists, sociologists, philosophers and writers.

Truzzi has edited the committee journal, "The Zetetic". He has published numerous sociological books and articles, including several in the area of folklore. He is the author of the book, "Caldron Cookery: An Authentic Guide for Coven Connoisseurs".

The course meets from 8 to 10 p.m. Thursdays from Oct. 27 to Dec. 8 (excluding Nov. 24). Classes will meet in Room 204 of the Pray-Harold Building on the EMU campus.

Cost of the seminar is $25. Persons may register by mail (Office of Continuing Education, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti 48197) or by attending the first class session on Oct. 27. For further information, contact the Continuing Education Office at 487-0407.

Bill would bring state law in line with feds

The Michigan House of Representatives will be considering legislation this fall to bring Michigan's unemployment compensation law into compliance with federal unemployment compensation standards. The compliance legislation—Senate Bill 714—includes provisions to increase the taxable wage base for each employee which an employer has from $4,200 to $6,000 per year, cover some domestic workers, cover some agricultural workers, and bring political subdivisions and K-12 school districts under the same eligibility standards as other employers covered by the Michigan Employment Security Act, according to State Rep. Thomas Brown (D-37th District).

If a compliance bill is not enacted by Jan. 1 to meet the provisions of the federal mandates, private sector employers in the state will lose their tax credits on the Federal Unemployment Tax, he said. It is estimated that more than $426 million in additional taxes would be assessed Michigan employers next year, if the federal tax credit is lost. In addition, if the compliance bill is not enacted, the more than $80 million in administrative funds for running the Michigan Employment Security Commission would no longer be provided from federal funds.

A controversial issue which threatens the passage of Senate Bill 714 is the coverage of non-professional K-12 school district employees during school vacation periods, Brown said. While this provision is not required to keep Michigan in conformity with federal law, it is being recommended by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Coverage for non-professionals during school vacation periods is being justified as necessary to treat non-professionals in the K-12 school districts in the same manner as non-professionals in higher education and the special schools for the blind, deaf, and physically handicapped who currently are eligible for unemployment benefits during vacation periods, he explained. Several other sectors of the economy are now eligible for unemployment benefits during predictable seasonal layoffs, including auto workers, construction workers and employees in the tourist industry.

Opponents of vacation coverage argue that school districts cannot afford the additional cost of these unemployment benefits and that seasonal non-professionals do not want to work during school vacations, Brown went on to say.

The governor has indicated that he believes that non-professional K-12 school employees deserve to be covered during school vacation periods as a matter of equity, but that some means must be found of reimbursing the schools for the additional expense, Brown added, saying the governor has not indicated where the additional funds would be located to achieve this equity.

Thurston to test Glenn title rights

Ruark, Cook score 2 TDs in win over East

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Burned by Allen Park in the 1977 high school football season opener, Westland John Glenn and reconstructionist Chuck Gordon proved with a 27-0 victory Friday night at Garden City East that the Rockets are not made of paper mache. With the skillful running of tailback Tim Ruark who split four of the touchdowns with slotback Jerry Cook Friday, the Westlanders now have a modest — but impressive — three game winning streak.

Gordon and his minions must now concentrate on Thurston whose overtime loss Saturday nearly struck disaster into the hearts of Livonia Franklin fans and Coach Armand Vigna.

Gordon obviously is worried about Thurston who can defuse the Rockets' title plan. Glenn is the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ.

"They have been inconsistent," Gordon pointed out of Thurston, "but they played what I consider was their best game of the season against Franklin. We sure can't afford to let them do that against us, and we also can't afford looking past them to North Farmington."

North Farmington jarred Ann Arbor Pioneers last week and will take on Franklin Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Livonia-based high school. That game could tell Gordon and Rocket supporters a lot.

Gordon will have an immense job of psyching up his gridders for winless Thurston which has been improving each week. Glenn was also at its best at East Friday night.

In fact, the game at East was all John Glenn. The Rockets played in Panther territory most of the rainy night and didn't let their Northwest Suburban Conference rivals penetrate beyond midfield.

But, one of the reasons why East has weakened was that it started the season late. The school district informed coaches last summer that there would be no fall sports and, not until a state financial aid grant was provided in late August, did the school board restore athletics.

Coach Gary Humphrey also lost his starting quarterback Joe Emery to an injury in the second game of the season.

Ruark got the Westlanders on the scoreboard in the first quarter as he ran for a 26-yard touchdown midway in the quarter. He also tallied in the second quarter on a 10-yarder en route to a 115-yard evening.

Glenn struck for two TDs in the second quarter as quarterback Bill Lee passed 19-yards for a score to Cook. Cook also scored on a two-yard run in the final period.

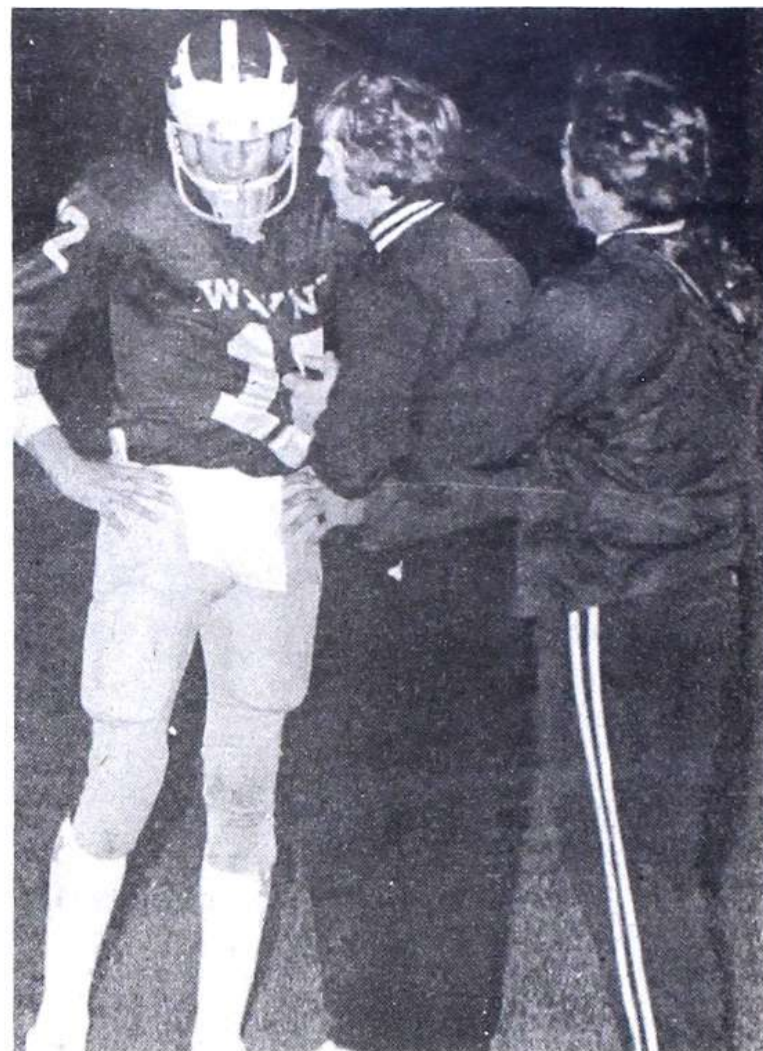

Cal Deluca kicked three of the four point-after. His one unsuccessful attempt was blocked.

Glenn amassed 296 yards and 13 first downs with center Jeff Suida and guard Perry Lampinen earning a lot of recognition for their blocking. Tom Jurewicz, a tackle, and defensive end, along with his colleague at the other side of the line, Rick Burns, teamed with Cook to play exceptionally on defense.

"We played our best football game of the season," Gordon stressed. "And I think our statistics would spell that out."

Glenn held East to three first downs and a total of 71 yards.

The Westlanders will also single out the Thurston game as its "Homecoming" and more than 5,000 fans are expected to crowd Glenn's field for the 8 p.m. kickoff.

Jam session

With the drizzle and Fordson washing away Wayne's title hopes, Coach Floyd Carter and quarterback Mark Korte (12) pause to discuss strategy. More than 5,000 fans saw Wayne fall Friday night to the visiting Tractors who extended their winning streak to four games while cutting the Zebras, at three. Wayne will head for Lincoln Park Friday for another tough Great Lakes Conference matchup.

Blaha leads Zebras past Fordson runners

Taking yet another stride to build Wayne Memorial as one of the top Class A cross country teams in the state, senior architect Rick Blaha shattered Wayne's course record in leading the Zebras to a 15-40 triumph over Fordson.

Blaha, undefeated on the season, displayed near formidable form as he covered the 3-mile course in a record-setting 15:10 time, erasing Belleville's Randy Block's record of 15:19 from the books.

The shutout diluted Fordson's dreams of unseating Wayne as the next Great Lakes 8 Conference champs.

"The shutout shattered any speculation that we're not for real," said Coach Ernie Righetti. "We had to win this meet and our boys not only came through, but they did it in real championship form."

"I felt that Fordson was the only team that could have beaten us this year in the league and this victory convinces me that we have the inside track on winning the championship again," Righetti added.

Blaha finished 14 full seconds ahead of teammate Doug Tolson (15:25) who led Zebras, Ron Mason (15:34), Paul Spencer (15:44) and Tim Quaintance (16:02) across the finish line.

The victory also was Wayne's fifth against no dual meet losses this season.

Wayne will host its annual invitational on Saturday with at least 10 teams committed to compete under a new format this year. In previous years the invitational was staged with two divisions — this year's format calls for only one division.

Wayne will have area rivals Belleville, Westland John Glenn and Garden City East to contend with along with Livonia Franklin, Garden City West, Trenton and Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

The meet will begin at 10 a.m. and stage on the 3-mile layout behind the high school.

we lost yesterday!"

It was Livonia Churchill that lost to Harrison.

Cherry Hill scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the second quarter when quarterback Scotty Dawson combined with Darnell Green on a 14-yard touchdown pass that finished off a 35-yard drive which erupted with Rick Searcy's 15-yard punt return.

Riverside bogged down in its own territory most of the first half, finally threatened late in the ball game when they drove to the Spartan 29 from their own 40.

However, that Reb threat ended when Dale Redick picked off quarterback Mark Szczerba's missile.

Sophomore tailback Randy Frederick led Cherry Hill ballcarriers with 70 yards in 21 attempts while Dawson, along with connecting for his fifth TD of the season, completed four of 10 passes for 59 yards.

John Sweet and Wayne Nichols, two seasoned Cherry Hill linebackers, accounted for a large hunk of the tackles. Sweet counted seven solos, three assists and also recovered two fumbles. Nichols was credited with six unassisted tackles and three assists. Defensive ends Russ Duncan and Brett Loritz split 12 tackles between them.

Though Riverside had the edge in first downs 10-7, Cherry Hill amassed 183 yards to the Rebs' 167. The Spartans had 10 yards and Riverside 20 yards in penalties.

"This is the first time in 13 years," Pawloski pointed out, "that we have also won a homecoming game."

Cherry Hill will head for Garden City East Friday night for a non-conference game that will inaugurate football competition between the two area high schools. East is riding a three-game losing streak after beating city rival, West, in the season opener.

"East is in a tough league (Northwest Suburban)," Pawloski said, "and we know they have had some problems. But they have good size kids and we're going to have our hands full."

Kickoff is 8 p.m. at East High.

Surprise: Cherry Hill knocks off Riverside, 6-0

Rising out of the depths of obscurity, Cherry Hill, last year's Tri-River Conference doormat, stunned Dearborn Heights Riverside 6-0 Saturday before an elated crowd of homecoming fans.

It was the first time during Coach Jerry Pawloski's four-year tenure as head coach that the Inkster-based high school had beaten their conference rivals.

The loss destroyed Riverside's hopes of challenging Melvindale for the conference championship and bolstered Pawloski's Spartans' record in the league to 2-1.

"Obviously we're elated to win this game," Pawloski said afterwards. "These kids took their lumps last year as a sophomore team, now they're coming back. The experience they received a year ago is paying back."

Pawloski pointed out that "one of the kids said we couldn't lose."

"It seems a metropolitan newspaper had us erroneously playing Farmington Harrison on Friday and losing, so our players said 'we can't lose today, because

Reaction to 'Almighty Dollar' letter

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

As expected, the "Concerned Parent" who wrote us last week and stated Romulus coaches were "only after the almighty dollar" created a furor in that school district.

Demanding equal time, and space, the coaches retaliated and here is the crux of their argument in the form of a letter signed by Rod Hanna.

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

I am writing in regards to the letter written by the anonymous "Romulus Parent" that was printed in your column last week.

As a teacher in Romulus for eight years, resident for six years and basketball coach for six years (two years as a Jr. High coach and four as a Jr. Varsity and assistant Varsity coach), I would like to inform your readers that this "anonymous parent" has distorted the facts and apparently had no idea what actually happened to our High School athletic program last year and the role the coaches played in trying to save the basketball, wrestling, baseball and track teams which the school board decided to cut last November at the end of the football season.

Basketball was cut 10 days before our first game. Head basketball coach Jessie Meriweather, and I were faced with the option of either not coaching, which would have given our school and city a bad image with the schools we scheduled to play and would have also deprived our athletes who trained hard throughout the year and especially during the summer, or to coach and raise money which we did with the help of the players, student council and various civic clubs and businesses.

I was getting home at 1 a.m. in the morning because of my fund raising activities.

Coach Meriweather, wrestling coach Vern Logan and I sponsored dances, athletic events, raffled various items, etc. I remember two weeks in December where I stayed out in freezing temperatures after basketball practice at Kennedy Park in Romulus until 11 o'clock at night selling Christmas trees and various raffle tickets.

No, the parents of the student athletes did not pay our salaries at Romulus High School. Only four parents aided the basketball and the wrestling programs in the sense of working at the home games or meets or help in driving to scrimmages. To these parents we are very grateful. (Shieck, Block, Sullivan and Bergmossner).

As far as coaching abilities go, I'll match our coaching staff's dedication and knowledge with any coaching staff in the state. Last year's Junior varsity basketball team had a 30-4 record. The team went undefeated in the summer league and was 16-4 during the regular season. Our varsity was 9-11, under, 500 for the first time in seven years. Our wrestling team had a winning record, 7 wins and 5 losses. Our track team enjoyed a fine season with an 8-2 record. The girls' basketball team had a winning record of 9-4. The baseball and football teams are under 500 because 70 percent of the players on the varsity baseball team were sophomores and the football team lacked talent and depth. These coaches worked hard during the summer to develop the green talents they had.

It is general knowledge that junior high and high school coaches don't coach only for the "almighty dollar". If they do they should have their heads examined. Only college and professional coaches make any real money. For the time I spend on basketball, which is from June to March, (10 months out of the year) it comes to about 25 cents an hour. I drove my players home and to scrimmages

Champs find Belleville tough

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The matchup between undefeated Dearborn and winless Belleville was supposed to be like taking candy away from a baby for Coach Dick Ryan's Pioneers.

The defending Suburban 8 Conference co-champs were in near tears after their hard-fought 21-8 triumph over Belleville. Ryan said he was "utterly dissatisfied with his team's performance."

And for the first time this year Belleville demonstrated it is a power to be reckoned with. The loss, though No. 4 for Coach Pat Stokes' Tigers, "showed us we can play with the best of them."

"Up to now we have played a very tough schedule, (Wayne Memorial, Edsel Ford, Plymouth Salem and Dearborn), we feel we have a good shot at the rest of the teams on the schedule," Stokes added.

The Belleville coach pointed out that the team's goal "was to improve each week and I feel we're getting better."

"However, we're 0-4 on the season

Nick of time

With Fordson's Ed Holgate (42) making a grab for Wayne quarterback Mark Korte, the junior signal-caller manages to release the ball just in time. Though Korte worked the option with authority Friday night, five fumbles handcuffed the Zebras who lost their first game of the season in four starts to their Great Lakes Conference arch-rivals.

and we can't go on losing forever...we need to win some ball games now," he said.

Belleville will host Allen Park at 8 p.m. Friday. The Jaguars will be coming to town with an 1-3 record.

Dearborn, ranked as high as 3rd in the Class A Metro West polls, scored twice in the first quarter on Kevin Gotes' 5-yard off-tackle jaunt and on a 59-yard Gots' punt return.

But, sandwiched in between those touchdowns was a nullified touchdown that was called back because of a personal foul against Belleville. Belleville's junior fullback Karl Kineoff broke loose on a dive play and scampered 63-yards for his first touchdown of the season only to have it called back because of the infraction.

Belleville compelled the co-champs to stay on defense most of the second quarter as the Tigers strung together an impressive 20-play drive which took them from their own 36-yard line to the Pioneer one where they fumbled away the touchdown.

Dearborn built up its lead to 21-0 as Gots returned the third quarter kickoff 85-yards for a touchdown. Jim Susalla then kicked his third extra point of the afternoon.

Brent Verrot, Belleville's middle guard, recovered a fumble which set up the Tigers' first touchdown of the season. He leaped on the loose ball midway in the third quarter at the Pioneer 33 yard line, then quarterback Tim Ellsworth engineered a seven-play attack with tailback Kelvin Patterson scoring from three yards out.

Ellsworth used the option to score the two-point conversion.

Franklin needs overtime to beat Thurston

Vigna: 'Sure, I'm worried about North Farmington'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

High school football coaches usually don't grumble after winning a close one.

But Livonia Franklin's Armand Vigna was. And, surprisingly, Vigna criticized his traditionally strong defense.

"Our defense let us down," Vigna said after the Patriots pulled out a 10-7 victory over Thurston in overtime Saturday afternoon.

"Thurston had 52 rushing plays against us," Vigna continued, "and we were juggling our lineup at the time. We were bad. We stunk and they (Thurston) played a darn good ball game and deserved to win. They beat us everywhere except on the scoreboard."

With undefeated North Farmington due at Franklin Field on Saturday at 2 p.m., Vigna and his crew will have to iron out the kinks if they want anything to say about the Northwest Suburban Conference football championship.

Ranked as high as fourth in Class A polls after knocking off undefeated Ann Arbor Pioneer last week, North Farmington will be seeking its fifth straight victory at the expense of the Patriots.

"I'm definitely worried," Vigna admitted. "I'm wondering if we have a ball club."

Asked if last Saturday's rains didn't hamper his team's over-all performance, Vigna replied: "Sure it was slippery but it didn't seem to hamper Thurston."

Franklin looked as if it was going to pulverize Thurston as the Patriots scored in less than four minutes in the first quarter. Thurston got the opening kickoff and, on the first play from scrimmage, Franklin's Dave Bowen picked off a pass at midfield.

Three plays later Bowen scored on a three-yard sweep to put the Patriots on the board. Don Boka then kicked the extra point giving the visitors a 7-0 edge.

Thurston waited until the third quarter to tie it up.

Franklin was well on its way to averting the extra period when quarterback Mike Fray engineered an eight play, 62-yard drive that ended with a Franklin fumble on the three, erasing the threat.

Forcing the issue into the overtime, Franklin broke the deadlock thanks to a 22-yard field goal by Boka.

Thurston then tried to get even but the Eagles lost two yards in the first

The chase is on Leaving a host of Garden City East gridders in his wake, Westland John Glenn tailback Tim Ruark (white jersey) takes off for one of his two touchdowns Friday night. Ruark helped the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champs launch the defense of their title with an easy 27-0 victory over the Panthers. Glenn will host Redford Thurston Friday night for its annual homecoming game. Thurston is coming off of a heart-breaking 10-7 overtime loss last Saturday to Livonia Franklin.

Watt-Karen zero in on title

Barring a complete break-down, Bruce Watt and Bruce Karen have the Canton Parks and Recreation Department adult men's golf championship in the bag.

The two leaders swept five points from Tony Valenti and Dick Kraft to increase their lead by 2½ points over challengers Lynn Tetsworth and Paul Oberhelman who have their hands on second with 27 points.

Seated five points out of first are Ron Cundiff and Joe Hulack who have compiled 24 points.

Dominique Patalidis, for the second week in a row, turned in the best round of golf as he shot a 38 for nine holes at Fellows Creek Golf Course. Tony Matson and Gordon Lapiere tied for the next best round as they pulled up with 41s.

Here are last week's scores: Matson and Melling 4½, Rehberg and Hoffman ½, Lapiere and Argonis 2½, Wallace and Horrey 2½, Tetsworth and Oberhelman 4½, Canning and Young ½, Karen and Watt 5, Valenti and Kraft 0.

Other scores included: Patalidis and Seewald 3½, Cundiff and Kraft 1½, Zelek and Mooney 2½, Sheets and Eminger 2½, Koers and Koers 4½, Gerth and Stuebber ½, Wilson and Slade 5, Grahm and Blumenshine 0, Waite and Ryan ½, Mogelnicki and Riggs 4½, and Mattingly and Carrigan 5, Legg and Spinella 0.

Here are the team totals after seven of the nine weeks of competition:

1. Karen and Watt - 29½ 2. Tetsworth and Oberhelman - 27 3. Cundiff and Wolford - 24 4. Lapiere and Argonis - 22½ 5. Matson and Melling - 21½ 6. Ryan and White - 20 6. Koers and Koers - 20 8. Patalidis and Seewald - 14 15. Canning and Young - 13 16. Legg and Spinella - 12½ 17. Mogelnicki and Riggs - 12 18. Zelek and Mooney - 11 19. Hoffman and Rehberg - 7.

Patterson ends Belleville TD drought against Dearborn

Belleville threatened again in the fourth quarter when linebacker Dave Cooke stole a pass at midfield, but a penalty on the play set the Tigers back 15 yards. They eventually gave up the ball via a punt.

However, Jim Sullivan got into the swiping act and stole a second Pioneer missile on the Tiger 41-yard line and Belleville drove to the 11-yard line where their chances to score fizzled because of a fumble.

Patterson again led the Tiger rushers with 70 yards on 20 carries while Winekoff, marking his initial starting appearance, picked up 67 yards on 13 attempts.

Belleville had the edge in total yardage 215 to 163 and in rushing 148 to 118. Ellsworth hit on 7-of-11 passes for 44 yards, while Dearborn connected on three of eight for 45.

Penalties cost Belleville 70 yards and Dearborn 50. The Tigers also had the edge in first downs 14 to 6.

Verrit and Stan Johnson, a linebacker, led the Tiger defense with 13 tackles each while Marty Thompsons, Bob Crook and Tom Rizzo also proved tough on defense.

"In fact, I can't complain about our defensive line's performance," Stokes said. "And we scouted Dearborn and figured we couldn't run against them — but our people did, so I feel our offense is jelling. We're about ready to turn things around."

many times without getting paid for it and even my wife helped in driving players to scrimmages because we couldn't use the school cars last year and at times we couldn't find any parents to help us.

No, Mr. "Anonymous Parent", it is not the money we coach for, it is the love for the game, the pride and the joy we experience when our athletes excel and improve themselves as people. Every coach at Romulus High School guides his athletes in such vital elements as grades, pride, personal problems and the lessons of being a responsible person. We go beyond the X's and O's Mr. "Anonymous Parent."

I would like every one to know that this year's junior class is one of the most athletically and academically talented and personable classes I have seen in my eight years in Romulus. Our junior varsity records in every sport last year was a winning one. Excellent junior class athletes like Stu Block, Tom Schieck, Richard Lewis, John Kersey, Darnell Green, Kelly Summerfield, Mike Johnson, Jim Sullivan, Donny Carter, etc. are the nucleus of great talent that participated in three sports and all have at least a B average as students.

These students among others are a credit to their parents, school, and community and it is a great loss when these students cannot compete and show their talents on the athletic fields. These students' athletic abilities would have increased the positive status and image of Romulus. They can be great good will ambassadors through out the state for Romulus, as John Long, and the Smith brothers, Virgil and Brad among others, are doing now.

I urge the parents of our athletes and every one in Romulus to get involved more in our school activities and functions and to give the athletic director, Mr. Ed Baum and the coaches a call in solving whatever problem there is to solve. There is no feeling, like the feeling of an athlete playing on the field knowing that his parents and the community are out in the stands supporting and applauding him and his team.

Self destruct: Wayne fumbles away victory

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

If anything can go wrong, states one of Murphy's fundamental laws, invariably it will.

And everything seemed to go wrong as, Wayne Memorial "self-destructed" Friday night. A visiting Fordson capitalized on a blocked punt and five lost fumbles to cut the Zebras' winning streak at three games.

Fordson's 27-0 shutout over Coach Floyd Carter's gridders also put the Tractors in the Great Lakes 8 Conference's driving seat. The Dearbornites remain undefeated in four outings.

"We lost the ball on key situations to them," Carter moaned, "and a team like Fordson will hurt you any opportunity it gets. I feel the block punt turned things around for them and gave them a touchdown."

Scoreless the first 12 minutes, Fordson broke the deadlock with 1:51 remaining in the first half. The touchdown was set up by a blocked punt which Harry Bousamra returned 11 yards to the Wayne 36 yard line.

Eight plays later Fordson was at the Zebra six-yard line where Ed Guido slipped off tackle and zipped into the Wayne end zone. A low center foiled Fordson's attempt for the point after.

Wayne came back after the second half kickoff and put together a drive that took them to the Tractor 15-yard line where a fumble erased the threat. In that drive Mike Wilson picked up 18 yards and made it to the Tractor 43, then Ed Turbeville dashed off five and Korte, after failing to find a receiver, sprinted up the middle to the Fordson 20.

On the next play, Wayne gave up the ball on a miscue.

Despite a 31-yard run by Fordson's Ken Latin, the Tractors surrendered the ball by punting in their next series, then cashed in on Jim Sherk's fumble recovery to score their second TD of the game.

Guido ended a 11-yard three play drive with a two-yard touchdown sprint, then Jim Scott combined with Bill Cibulka for the two-point conversion which lifted the Tractors to a 14-0 advantage.

The last 12 minutes also went to Fordson as Wayne was forced to gamble to catch up. Art Vahratian put the game out of Wayne's reach when he turned a Cibulka fumble recovery into a 17-yard touchdown run midway in the fourth quarter.

And Fordson added icing with a 33-yard touchdown run by Louis Stoltz with 3:07 left in the game. That score was also set up by a fumble recovered by David Tapp at the Wayne 37-yard line.

Despite the dismal weather — it rained most of the second half — and slippery Wayne fingers, there were some bright spots in the Zebras' overall performance. Turbeville picked up 80 yards on 11 carries for a 7.3 per try, and Wilson piled up 46 yards in 12 attempts.

Most experts agree that an additional step toward avoiding later cylinder trouble is to accelerate the car occasionally during the break-in period. You should do this in short spurts, no longer than a couple of miles at a time, during the break-in period. Take your new car onto a secondary highway — not a turnpike, where sustained, high-speed driving is the rule — and bring it up to the speed recommended in your owner's manual. When the road is clear, slow the car to 30 or 35, then put your foot down hard on the accelerator and quickly bring the car back up to the speed limit.

Autumn's time for state tour

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

With autumn now upon us everyone starts thinking about taking a drive in the country. This year why not plan on taking the family on a color tour that's really different. Head up North to your favorite river or go out to the Huron River near Milford and enjoy the changing colors of the leaves from a canoe.

Our state is blessed with an abundance of rivers that you can enjoy without any special canoeing skills. I must be the world's worst canoe paddler, but put me in a canoe in a shallow slow-moving river and I feel as confident as any white-water canoeist.

For a young child the excitement of planning a fall canoe trip can keep them on their best behavior for days.

Even a few hours floating down the Huron River will have them bragging to their friends about the neat things their dad does with them.

Each bend in the river holds something new to enjoy.

It may be a tree that is different from the rest, or maybe you'll flush a flock of mallards. From a canoe the ducks don't hear you until the last minute and sometimes will, in their confusion, fly right over you.

One bend might have a log covered with turtles and another might hold a muskrat's den.

It doesn't matter whether they see many animals and birds. Just the possibility and the enjoyment of nature at her finest is all they really need.

Another type of color tour that you can go on this year is a nature hike.

The Metro Parks have many fine trails with many of the different kids and types of trees one can identify.

You can spend anywhere from an hour to a day leisurely rolling and strolling through the woods.

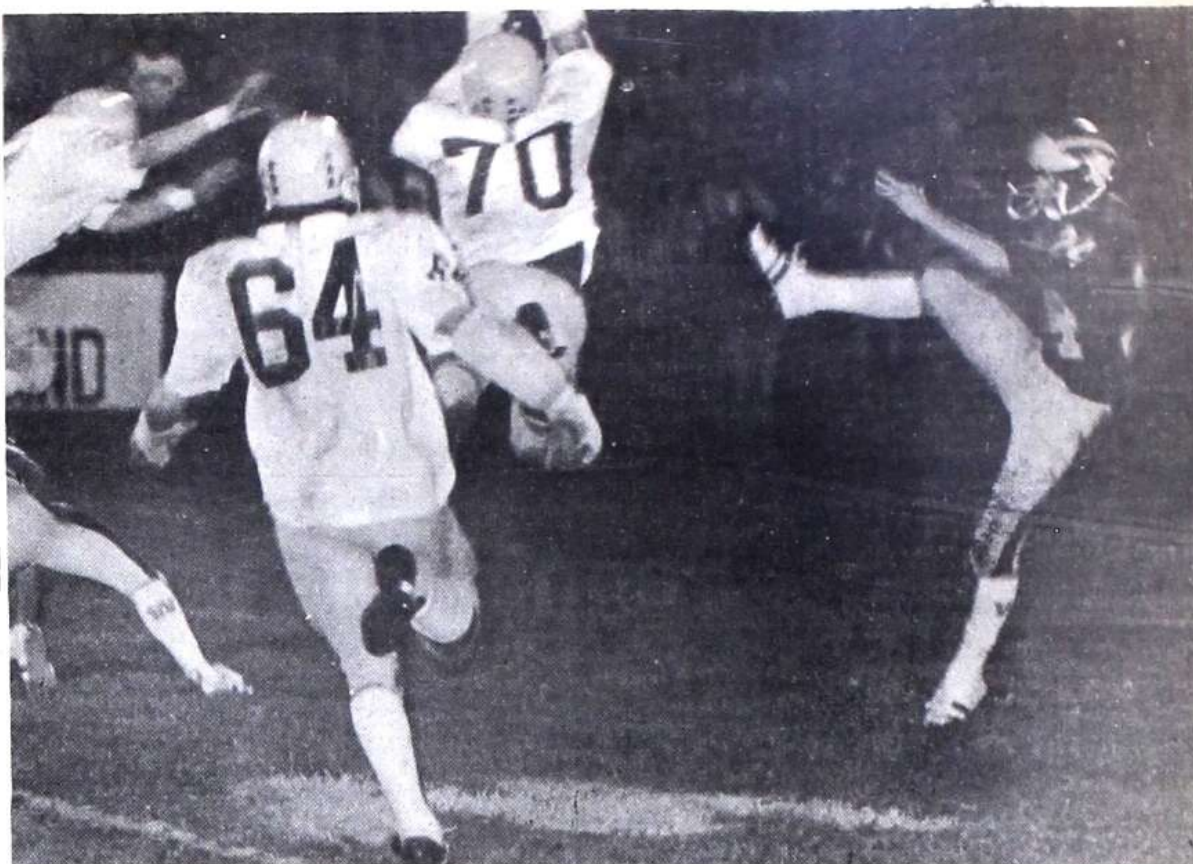

Last year at Kensington Park, in addition to the usual member of squirrels, chipmunks and birds we saw five deer that were within 50 feet of the trail.

The trails are well kept and marked and they are perfect for an enjoyable no strain kind of day.

I always let my boys run up and down the hills on either side of the trail while I cruise the flat ground.

No matter which type of color tour you go on, by all means take one.

Your kids will enjoy it, you'll enjoy it and seeing them happy, excited, and tired at the end of the day will make you happy that you are a parent.

Deep trouble ahead

Disaster struck Wayne Memorial in the form of a blocked punt as Fordson's Jim Sherk (70) rushes past Zebra defenders and gets to a punt by Larry Vojtkosky (24) early in the second quarter. The play set up Fordson's first touchdown and the visitors went on to hand Coach Floyd Carter's charges their first setback of the 1977 campaign. Fordson now is in command of the Great Lakes 8 Conference title race.

Glenn runners 4th at Alpena Invitational

The long but picturesque trip to the north country paid off for Westland John Glenn runners who competed in the 10th Annual Optimist Invitational Cross Country competition held in Alpena.

Coach Jerry Szukaitis' Rockets finished fourth in a field of 14 teams and four members of the team earned medals.

Flint Kearsey, with transfer student Tom Doherty leading the way, captured the team as well as the individual titles. Kearsey amassed 36 points while Doherty covered the rain-drenched 3-mile course in 14:58, setting a record.

Doherty transferred from Flint Davidson to Kearsey because Davidson dropped athletics because of cutbacks.

Saginaw Eisenhower finished second with 64 points, followed by Alpena with 72, then John Glenn, with a total of 103 points.

"It was a very good meet," said Szukaitis, "and very well run. The track was sloppy because it had rained 10 straight hours prior to the meet."

Westland's best finish came from Mark Johnson's efforts. Johnson was clocked in 15:59 for 11th place. Teammate Jim Kanclerz was 18th (16:05), while Randy Gabrys hit the wire 20th (16:08). Other Glenn finishes included 22 by Jim Barber (16:12), Tom Andrews, 32nd (16:32), Jim Green, 42nd (16:43) and Paul Stephens, 77th (18:01).

Trailing Glenn in the team standings were Midland (107), Bridgeport (197), Flushing (213), Traverse City (223), Petoskey (259), Rogers City (276), Oscoda (306), Midland Dow (348), Bangor John Glenn (370) and St. Sault Marie (383).

Doherty led Duane Johnson of Midland (15:14), Podsadcki (FK) - 15:19, Mark Schley (A) - 15:27, Scott Gregory (M) - 15:37, Dave Stimpson (SE) - 15:40, Blankenship (FK) - 15:41, John Singer (SE) - 15:40, Bob Fitch (A) - 15:54 and Ed Gray (B) - 15:58 across the finish line.

Glenn resumes its chase for the Northwest Suburban Conference championship Thursday against Thurston at home. Thurston is considered the team to beat this year in the league.

Skating to fame

Eleven-year-old Patrick McCarty of Belleville is carving out quite a name for himself in the world of rollerskating. McCarthy, a sixth grade student at Haggerty Elementary recently competed in the nationals in Maryland and returned with a couple of gold medals and a second and third place trophy for his freestyle and compulsory performances. He's coached by Patsy Hollister and John Harris and skates out of the Riverside Arena in Livonia.

Prep golfers eye WW title

By digging into their own pockets, Belleville High golfers and booster's club salvaged a season for themselves last year.

Unfortunately, because of new policies and lack of monies, Belleville didn't field a team this year.

But that doesn't mean Belleville, the annual host of the Western Wayne Golf Invitational, isn't going to stage the high school tournament, according to Harry Hidenfelter, athletic director.

It's unfortunate that we don't have a golf team this year," Hidenfelter said, "but, for the past 12 years we have staged the WW tournament and I feel that we have a responsibility to those schools who have committed themselves to play in the meet to continue with the tradition.

"We're going to continue with our practice of hosting the meet,"

Hidenfelter added.

The tournament is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 6 at Salem Hills Golf Course. Tee-off is at 10 a.m. The field has been narrowed to six teams, including Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Cherry Hill, Livonia Franklin and Garden City East and Garden City West.

Salem Hills is located on Six Mile Rd. just west of the hamlet of Salem.

Franklin harriers in slow gear

If Livonia Franklin runners hope to finish among the leaders in the Northwest Suburban Conference, they'll have to shift out of slow gear.

Coach Bob Holmes' Patriots suffered their second loss of the league season last Thursday as Thurston jarred the Livonians 19-36.

"Thurston ran a good race and we ran poorly," Holmes commented. "We had an all-around letdown and we're going to have to do a lot better this week or we'll lose to North Farmington."

Because of the point spread, Holmes now feels that Thurston has established itself as the team to beat in the league.

"East beat us by one point and Thurston handled us quite easily, therefore, I have to say that Thurston has a better team," Holmes noted.

Franklin will host North on Thursday at 4 p.m.

Thurston's Brian Hess crossed the finish line first, covering the 3-mile Cass Benton course in a 16:08. Franklin's best finish came from the efforts of Matt Killinger who was fifth in 16:59.

Other Franklin finishers were Dave Dawson (sixth), Rob Klinefelter (seventh), Jeff Reich (eighth), and Bob Urban (10th).

Franklin will also be at Wayne Memorial Saturday for the annual invitational, which will get underway at 10 a.m.

Flyers shoot down Inkster, 46-18

Vikings head for Highland Park

Inkster Coach Arnice James holds his breath every time he fields his team.

He wonders if he'll have enough players to finish up the season. Injuries are beginning to thin his depleting ranks.

And, after Willow Run's Flyers shot down Arnice's Vikings 46-18 in a nonleague game last week, the Inkster coach is also wondering if all the frustrations and anxieties are worth it.

"I knew we had a young and inexperienced team when we started," Coach James said, "but one really doesn't know how inexperienced or young until there's actual contact."

James pointed out that his players were "just missing too many tackles and giving up the ball by mental errors."

"You know I look at Willow Run's athletic booster club and then ours and there is no comparison," James continued. "If we're going to field a competitive team in the future, then we're going to have to get programs started on the lower grade levels."

"It's really pathetic," he added.

It's really pathetic because Inkster had produced some excellent ball players and the Vikings are represented on a host of major college and university rosters across the country.

The Flyers scored once in the first quarter, exploded for 22 points in the next 12 minutes then went on to put the wraps on their second victory of the season.

Inkster's running back John Stevens and Maurice Hendricks accounted for 240 yards between them. Stevens scored on a 15-yard jaunt in the first period, culminating a 60-yard drive while Hendricks got the second TD on an 8-yard option which put the finishing touches on a 65-yard drive.

Quarterback Tony Smith went in from the six on a fourth quarter keep to produce the Vikings' final tally.

"We managed to generate some offense, but the defense is hurting," pointed out James whose team will fly out of the proverbial frying pan into the fire this week.

The Vikings will travel to Highland Park on Friday for their second Suburban Athletic Conference confrontation. The Parkers and Dearborn Heights Robichaud are undefeated.

Robichaud places 9-game streak on block

Muskegon Heights is next for undefeated Bulldogs

Robichaud will place a nine-game winning streak on the block Friday when Muskegon Heights clashes with Coach Bob Yauck's undefeated Bulldogs.

Clinging to a breathtaking 13-9 victory over River Rouge a week ago, the Dearborn Heights gridders now have the longest football winning streak in the school's recent history.

But to extend that streak to 10 Robichaud will have to look like a completely different ball club than it did against Rouge. Yauck explains:

"I feel we played our worst game of the season," the Robichaud coach noted. "We were fortunate to win and the letdown could have been an emotional one because of the easy way we handled Inkster the week before."

Yauck stressed that "Muskegon Heights will be tough because it plays a tough schedule. They play teams like Midland Dow, which won last year's Class A state title. They're independent so they have to travel a lot to schedule games."

Robichaud got on the boards early against the visiting Panthers as quarterback Alvin Carter put together a six-play midfield drive that culminated with fullback Roger McGhee racing over the Rouge goal line from four-yards out.

McGhee wasn't supposed to be in the lineup. He had a date with a doctor to see about a tonsillitis operation, but postponed it indefinitely.

"Roger says he feels O.K. and as long as the docs give him permission to play, we'll let him," Yauck commented.

Yauck's son, Bob Jr., who has been averaging 40 yards per punt, kicked the extra point.

Robichaud's seven-point lead didn't stand up for long as Rouge came back and tied the score late in the second quarter when QB James Ward masterminded a 60-yard drive with Andre Finley scoring from the 10. Ward then booted the extra point.

It looked as if the two teams would head for an overtime, especially after Robichaud drove to the one-yard line with the second half kickoff and failed to score because of a couple of procedural penalties.

But, with 7:41 left in the game the Bulldogs cut the knot thanks to Yauck and Daryl Goree. Yauck brushed aside a couple of Rouge defenders and blocked a punt while Goree hurriedly scooped up the loose ball and scampered 26-yards for the decisive touchdown.

The nail-biting wasn't over yet. Rouge came back on Ward's four pass completions and drove to the Robichaud 10-yard line where they

End of reign: Churchill's cross country win streak cut at 32

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

For five years and 32 dual meets, Livonia Churchill and Coach Dave Westover ruled the Western Six Conference cross country world.

That conference has not known another league champ except Churchill.

But the dynasty could end this year as Northville handed the Charger runners their first conference loss ever, tripping up the five-time defending league champs, 19-42.

The loss cut what is believed to be the longest cross country conference dual meet winning streak in the state. The Livonians had never before been defeated by a conference rival.

"It's a hard one to digest," said Westover, "but the writing was right there on the wall for all of us to see. We just aren't improving like we ought to and I'm not sure I have all the answers to why.

"But, though we still have the title in our mitts, it sure is in immediate jeopardy," Westover continued. "We got to pick up the pieces and start anew."

Tobin Jones provided the defending champs with a second place finish as he was clocked for the 3-miles in 16:25. However, Churchill's next man, Dennis Flamme, crossed the finish line seventh (17:08) and the Chargers were in trouble.

Churchill came up with a 10th place finisher in Ken Gaskell (17:24), who was followed to the wire by teammates Bob Stansberry (18:03), and Kevin Paul (18:20) in 11th and 12th places, respectively.

The Livonians return to league competition Thursday against Harrison and the Farmington runners could seal the coffin with a victory.

"We finished ahead of them at the Schoolcraft Invitational earlier in the season, but if Harrison has improved we'll have problems," Westover pointed out.

Chopp, Miss Landau earn gold medal

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Rollerskating it is a lot of fun. But for 20-year-old Larry Chopp of Wayne, it is also his vehicle to fame and hopefully fortune.

Chopp teamed up with petite Judy Landau of Northville for the World Rollerskating Competitions held in Montreal this summer, and finished second in the world in the dance division.

"We're sort of looked upon as outcasts by the New Yorkers who captured first and third places," Chopp related. "They sort of dominate the sport."

Chopp and Miss Landau were sandwiched in between New York's Dan Little and Florette Arsenault who claimed the top honors and Lori Benell and Steve Hingle, also of New York, who finished third.

When one considers that skaters from 14 countries including the United States, Canada, Germany, Italy, Austria, Spain, India, New Zealand, Switzerland, France, Holland and Belgium sent representatives to the world competitions, Chopp and Miss Landau's accomplishment takes on greater importance.

"The only countries that really weren't represented were the Iron Curtain nations and Russia," Chopp pointed out. "But they've also taken up the sport, I'm told."

To qualify for the world tournament, Larry and Judy took third in the nationals held in Fort Worth, Texas during the second week of August.

If he and Miss Landau can raise the money, they'd like another shot at the world championship contests which will be staged in Portugal next year.

Money is always a problem for young and stardom-seeking athletes. Lessons cost $15 per hour and the cost is split between the two. They also try to practice at least five hours a day and you don't need to be a mathematician to realize one can go for broke in the sport.

To help raise money, Chopp works at the Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti, "but says the only way we're ever

Canton woos win, is rejected, 12-10

Dave Schuele is probably wondering what it takes to win a football game.

Schuele's Chiefs out at Plymouth Canton have come close, but close doesn't count. Their last outing, a 12-10 loss to Waterford Mott, is indicative of what's happening to the Canton club.

"We started slow and we don't get untracked until late," said Schuele. "But I feel we played a pretty fair game against Waterford. They are a strong team."

Waterford got on the scoreboard in the first quarter and held a 6-0 lead until Mike Nyhus made good on a 37-yard field goal in the second quarter.

The Chiefs decided to call on Nyhus after a drive stalled on the Mott 8-yard line.

But Waterford pulled away to a 12-3 third quarter lead and appeared well on its way to the victory when the slow-starting Chiefs kept the outcome of the game in doubt with a fourth-quarter touchdown.

Kyle Heaton blocked a Mott punt at the Waterford 37 and later an 18-yard rush by Russ Mandie started the Chiefs off on the right direction. They moved to the one-yard line where sophomore quarterback Fred Hallway sneaked over for the touchdown.

Nyhus then kicked the extra point, cutting the Mott lead to two-points.

It wasn't over yet. Canton successfully pulled off an onside kick which was recovered by Dave Tanner on the Mott 42-yard line with 3:20 left in the game. The Chiefs took to the air routes in hopes of landing their first Western Six and season victory but couldn't connect.

Mandle led Canton ballcarriers with 60 yards while Tanner, Nyhus, Heaton were the Chiefs' defensive sparkplugs.

Canton will need a miracle to win its next one — they have defending conference champ, Farmington Harrison, on their schedule Friday.

Though Harrison isn't the power it was a year ago when they reached the finals of the Class A state playoffs and lost the championship to Midland Dow, they have enough holdovers from that team to help them retain the conference title.

2nd best in world

If the saying about being second is true, you can bet Larry Chopp of Wayne and Judy Landau of Northville, who finished second in World Rollerskating competition, will try harder next year. The couple competed in the international tournament held in Montreal and finished runners-up to the dance team of Dan Little and Florette Arsenault of New York.

Wayne's Chief warm up for league year with 3rd victory, 8-4

Breaking loose for four goals in the final period, the Wayne Chiefs buried Sherwood Forest, a representative of the Senior "A" Hockey League, 8-4, last week.

Eight separate Wayne players scored in the game. It was the third victory for the local skaters this year. The Chiefs were deadlocked at 2-all after the first period, then pulled ahead 4-3 after two periods before erupting for four goals in the last period.

Jeff Wiewiura, Bill Coole, John Slavick, Mike Barta, Ron Shiner, Phil Klebba, Pat Eyo and Jim Gardiner each fired goals. Tim Kluz and Gardiner also counted two assists for the evening.

Wayne launched the Great Lakes Junior Hockey League campaign Monday night, hosting Frazier's Highlanders and will be back on local ice (The Wayne Community Center, on Monday against the Saints of Allen Park.

Face-off is 7:30 p.m.

A life-long resident of Wayne - Larry graduated from Wayne Memorial in 1975 - Chopp took up skating "around four years ago because I went to an arena and saw some skaters and liked what I saw."

How did he find his partner? "I really didn't. My coach, Jane Puracchio, matched me up with her because she thought we would be compatible and it's worked out," Larry related.

At 5 feet 11, 160-pounds, Chopp has to continuously keep in shape for the myriads of moves demanded by his routine. He took ballet and ballroom dancing for poise and esthetics.

If he should win the world title, then what?

"I really don't know," Chopp said. "We want to get to the top, then we'll decide once we get there."

Franklin wins thriller

The stats are overwhelmingly in Thurston's favor. The Eagles had possession of the ball for 52 rushing plays as compared to Franklin's 29 and also chalked up 16 first downs to the Patriots' seven.

Cifor led Franklin ballcarriers with 86 of their total 166 yards. Cifor had 11 attempts.

The victory was Franklin's third in four starts and was the second straight in the conference.

Ramming rod

Northern Michigan tailback Fred Shoemaker (25) lowers his head in anticipation of a collision with a Saginaw Valley defender in the fourth period of NMU's 34-9 dumping of the visiting Cardinals Saturday in Marquette. Shoemaker, a 5-6 sophomore who prepped at Westland John Glenn, doesn't have to drop his shoulders too far to the ground to present an alsmot impossible target for would-be-tacklers. In a reserve role in the contest, he netted six yards on two carries. Northern, 4-1 on the year, will host Western Kentucky this Saturday in a rematch of the 1975 NCAA Division II national championship game won by the Wildcats 16-14. — NMU Photo

Here's best routes to 'M' game

Motorists traveling to East Lansing for the Michigan State-University of Michigan football game Saturday (Oct. 8) should encounter few traffic problems on routes leading to the stadium area, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

However, two construction areas on I-96 could cause slowups for football fans from the Detroit and Grand Rapids areas.

Detroit-area motorists will find a one-mile stretch of I-96 reduced from three lanes to two both ways near Kensington Metropark.

I-96 also is reduced to one lane each way for bridge deck repairs at the junction of US-131 just north of Grand Rapids. East Lansing streets leading to parking near Spartan Stadium are one-way inbound prior to the game and one-way outbound afterward.

There is parking for approximately 18,000 vehicles with a $2 charge at campus-operated lots. Shuttle buses are available at the campus commuter lot at Farm Lane and Mt. Hope (not shown on map).

The commuter lot has free parking for 6,000 vehicles with round-trip shuttle costing 75 cents. The lot can be reached by exiting northbound I-496 at Jolly Road, one mile north of I-96, and by following the signs posted along the way.

Kickoff for the game is 1:30 p.m. Auto Club advises motorists to arrive at parking lots no later than 12:45 p.m. to avoid missing the kickoff.

On traveling squad

Junior George Sedlacek (95), a former Romulus High School football standout who earned All-Area recognition, has made the Central Michigan University travel squad as a reserve defensive tackle and speciality team performer. The 6-foot-2, 230-pound athlete's progress is being scrutinized by defensive coordinator Herb Deromedi who recruits the Romulus area for CMU. The Chippewas will continue their Mid-American Conference road schedule on Oct. 8 when they'll be at Northern Illinois University.

Robichaud seeks No. 10 gave the ball up on downs with 1:20 to go.

The Bulldogs used up three plays, then conceded a two-point safety to their rivals in order to get the free kick. Yauck booted the ball deep onto Panther territory and before Ward got the offense untracked Robichaud's alert safety, Carter, picked off his fifth interception of the season.

Michael Morgan led the winner's attack with 72 yards in 15 carries while McGhee settled for 55 in nine attempts. Carter rushed for 25 yards on six tries.

John Lucas, a tackle, Goree, Yauck and Carter were Robichaud's standouts on defense.

With Highland Parks triumph over Ecorse, there are only two unbeaten teams in the Suburban Athletic Conference — Robichaud and the Parkers. The two will settle their differences Oct. 15.

2. In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear son, Brother, Uncle and Godfather, Terry Lee Scoville who passed away one year ago October 9, 1976. God saw you getting weary. He did what he knew best. He came and stood beside you and whispered, come and rest. You did not owe a farewell or even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew it and only God knew why. Sadly missed by his Parents, Brother, Sisters and their Families.

THIS PLACE sure is empty around here without "Jerry". Howard Watkins Family. 3496 Richard St., Wayne.

ED FREEH, Jr. Sales Manager Consider these Advantages Of Home Ownership

Consider these points. You provide a more stable environment for your family. You insure yourself of the greatest hedge against inflation. You get the tax advantages of deducting the interest you pay on your loan and your property taxes. You are building an equity in property as opposed to collecting worthless rent receipts. Thus you are creating an estate for your family. You become a part of your own community, enjoying a status and a sense of fulfillment which is impossible to measure in material terms. You gain more through home ownership than through any other purchase you can ever make. NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO BUY!

"I CHANGED TO CHATHAM AND I'M SAVING MONEY"

Pam Burdett a competitive shopper who changed to Chatham. When asked "Why did you change," she answered:

"I would have to say the main reason is the savings. I find that I get more groceries for the amount of money that I spend. I was real excited to come home with all these groceries for the amount of money that I had been spending at other grocery stores."
